New for June 2018

PLEASE NOTE: Any items listed in italics are open to registered charities only.

Advice: At the end of the Funding Journal there is a new advice section with articles on running voluntary groups, holding fund-raising activities, applying for grants and awards to recognise excellence.

To Search the Funding Journal: The best way to search the Journal for funding opportunities is to pick key words relating to your project such as 'young people' and use the 'find' facility on your computer.

Successful Local Bids

Ten community groups and charities from Bath and North East Somerset have successfully applied to the 'Bath and North East Somerset Community Wellness' Fund.

Virgin Care is responsible for this grant programme as part of its contract with Bath & North East Somerset Council and the local NHS to bring health and care services together and improve outcomes by allowing local people to stay well and proactively look after their health. The fund is managed by the Quartet Community Foundation who run the application and grant award process as well as tracking outcomes.

The programme is aimed at community groups and charities in Bath and North East Somerset targeting loneliness and isolation, and delivering projects promoting healthy lifestyles to enable local communities to tackle some of the causes of mental ill health.

Grants awarded through the 2017/18 programme are:

Southside Family Project	£1,300	For a project in Southdown involving growing, cooking, sharing and eating healthy food.
Bath Mind	£2,000	For a project in Keynsham which will include an evening session group for people who want support to maintain their mental wellbeing.
Wansdyke Play Association	£1,992.50	For a family play and eat project in the Somer Valley, open to all, with a particular emphasis on young boys.
Sporting Family Change	£1,956	Towards fitness sessions for women who are survivors of domestic abuse.
Bath Carnival	£2,000	For workshops to support members from Julian House and Genesis Trust.

Make a Move	£1,750	For a support worker to work with mothers as part of a post-natal depression group.
SWALLOW	£1,000	Towards two Bistro Clubs for SWALLOW members to meet up and enjoy new experiences.
Bath City Farm	£1,998	To launch a new group run by long-term members of the 'Make & Bake' therapeutic crafting and baking project.
Reason	£2,000	Towards counselling costs for people with addiction related problems.
Stitch Friday (Bath Mind)	£1,496	To launch two new complex crafting courses.

Congratulations to all the successful local bidders. The fund is closed at present but to find out more about it visit:

Developing your Creative Practice – Arts Council	A new Arts Council grant scheme designed to allow creative practitioners the time and space to undertake ambitious research and development, helping them make a step-change in their practice. The programme has been allocated an annual budget of £3.6 million. The Arts Council wishes to focus on investing in activities that have a real impact on people's artistic or creative development in England. The programme supports activity focused on the following art forms and disciplines: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Music • Theatre • Dance • Visual Arts • Literature • Combined Arts • Museums practice The term 'creative practitioners' includes dancers, choreographers, writers, translators, producers, publishers, editors, musicians, conductors, composers, actors, directors, designers, artists, craft makers and curators. Individual artists and/or creative practitioners in England may apply for a grant of between £2,000 and £10,000. Funding is for a 12 month period. Applicants must apply as an individual, or as a small group of practitioners who usually collaborate in their work. This could include, for example, artists who usually create work together, or writers and their translators. Applicants must have three years' creative practice experience outside a formal education context. Organisations cannot apply, and individuals cannot apply on behalf of an organisation. There are four rounds per year for this programme. Applicants cannot apply to more than two rounds within a 12-month period. The Arts Council considers a 12-month period to run from the date each round closes, not the date the application is submitted. The 2018/19 deadlines are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Round 1: 12pm on Wednesday 16th May • Round 2: 12pm on Thursday 16th August • Round 3: 12pm on Wednesday 14th November • Round 4: 12pm on Thursday 21st February 2019 Decisions on applications take up to nine weeks from the relevant deadline

Grants to improve approaches to the educational achievement of 'looked after children' and young carers – the British and Foreign School Society	This is the second round of a new grant programme aimed at improving approaches to the educational attainment of 'looked after children' and young carers in the UK. The British and Foreign School Society's (BFSS) grant-making policy is to focus on smaller projects where its funding will comprise a significant proportion of the total project cost. It therefore tends to reject applications from large charities in favour of smaller charitable organisations. The British and Foreign School Society will provide grants in support of the following outcomes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Looked after children and young carers are provided supplementary support that results in improved educational attainment • Interventions made in the delivery of supplementary educational support for looked after children and young carers are proven to be effective and scaleable • There is greater alignment and coherence in the work of the voluntary sector, ensuring more successful educational outcomes for looked after children and young carers. (Please note that BFSS does not expect applications to this third outcome as it will address this by convening workshops to share experience and support collaborative work.) Registered UK charities and organisations with officially recognised charitable status, such as a Charitable Incorporated Organisation (CIO) or a school, college or university with exempt status may apply. The level of funding available will vary, but the BFSS will favour applications for over £20,000 annually for up to 3 years (i.e. over £60,000). Funding is for project costs, which can include staff salaries as well as a limited contribution towards overheads. Some element of match funding contribution is expected. The funding will support work that develops sustainable approaches that can be replicated at scale. For example: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Pedagogically (the study of the methods and activities of teaching) proven models of how educational interventions can be made to best effect • Development of approaches based on a combination of paid staff and trained volunteers • Development of practical tools and resources that allow looked after children and young carers (and their family members) to receive support and grasp positive opportunities • Policy and practice for looked after children and young carers that values and prioritises education as a way of enhancing life chances. The work should be: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Clear about the impact it will make and how this will be measured, providing an evidence base for the effectiveness of the work; and

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Carried out in partnership with Local Authorities, schools and other organisations (including fellow grantees), that have responsibility for the education of Looked after children and young carers. • This approach represents a new way of working for BFSS which wants to understand and learn from what makes a real difference to the educational outcomes of looked after children and young carers, and improve future practice as a result. The deadline for applications is the autumn bank holiday, Monday 27th August for decisions to be made in October 2018. https://www.bfss.org.uk/grants/looked-after-children-and-young-carers/
Partnerships Fund – Big Lottery	This funding awards grants of over £10,000 to organisations who share responsibility and influence with others, who have a shared set of goals and values and achieve their mission by starting with the bigger picture rather than just what their organisation can do on its own. The Big Lottery call this ‘generous leadership’. Grants are awarded for up to five years and funds can be used for project activities, operating costs, organisational development and capital costs. Partnerships funding is specifically designed to support generous leadership and increased collaborative working, which starts with shared goals and values between different organisations and an understanding of the bigger picture. The Big Lottery can support you to develop and grow existing partnerships and also to encourage new types of partnership which build on your different skills and strengths. Types of partnership include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • cross-sector partnerships • local place-based collaboration • local and national organisations working together around a particular theme. You can contact the Big Lottery if you are interested in setting up a new partnership, or if you already have an established partnership. This fund supports ideas that meet one or more of the Big Lottery’s three funding priorities. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • bring people together and build strong relationships in and across communities • improve the places and spaces that matter to communities • enable more people to fulfil their potential by working to address issues at the earliest possible stage They will support organisations that are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • people led - meaningfully involving the people you’re working with in the development and delivery of your activity • strengths based - making the most of the skills that already exist in

"Explore and Test" grants of up to £60,000 for up to 2 years. Funding is designed to help explore and test both new approaches and ways of addressing new issues. Up to 20% of the grant may be allocated as a contribution to organisational running costs. 2. "More and Better" grants of up to £400,000 for up to 4 years. Funding is intended to help organisations, or the sector more broadly, to deliver more effective arts-based learning. Charities, community organisations, social enterprises and not-for-profit companies active in the arts may apply. There is no specific requirement for match funding. "Explore and Test" and "More and Better" have different application processes: "Explore and Test" - there is a one-stage application process for this stream, and applications can be filled in online on the PHF website. Applicants will receive an acknowledgement by email. "More and Better" - there is a two-stage application process for this stream. Application forms for stage one are available to complete online.

	Applicants will be informed if they have been successful in reaching the second stage within four weeks of the closing date, at which point further questions will be asked and a visit may be arranged. The stage two process usually takes between 15 and 24 weeks from the closing date. Further information is available on the Paul Hamlyn Foundation website, where details of its other grant programmes can also be found. https://www.phf.org.uk/funds/arts-based-learning-fund/
Teacher Development Fund – Paul Hamlyn Foundation	The purpose of the Teacher Development Fund is to support delivery of effective arts-based teaching and learning opportunities in the primary classroom and to embed learning through the arts in the curriculum. It aims to do this through supporting teachers and school leaders to develop the necessary skills, knowledge, confidence and experience. Each year they expect to make around five grants of up to £150,000 to partnerships of arts/cultural organisations and up to ten schools, who will work together for two academic years. There will be a single annual deadline for the Teacher Development Fund. The application deadline for projects beginning in Autumn 2018 has now closed. Applications for projects beginning in Autumn 2019 will open later in the year. If you would like to register to receive information please e-mail the Foundation on ela@phf.org.uk. Their focus is on: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Primary schools • Supporting children and young people experiencing disadvantage • Approaches which involve learning through the arts • Long-term, inquiry-based projects which support teachers' professional development and learning • Promoting effective and equitable partnerships between schools and arts/cultural organisations and artist practitioners • The contributions of school leaders and artist practitioners as both professional learners and as supporters of embedding learning through the arts in the curriculum • Approaches which involve any of the following art forms: crafts; creative writing, including poetry; dance; design; film; music; opera; photography; digital arts and media; theatre and drama; the visual arts; and cross-arts practices https://www.phf.org.uk/funds/tdf/
Ideas and Pioneers Fund – Paul Hamlyn Foundation	The Ideas and Pioneers Fund supports people with unusual or radical ideas to improve the life chances and opportunities of people in the UK. Grants of up to £10,000 (and up to £15,000 in exceptional circumstances) are available to individuals, partnerships or small organisations.

	The Foundation wants to work with people whose ideas are in their early stages of development and will consider funding work to develop ideas from concept to set-up: this may include problem definition and analysis, scoping, exploratory work and prototyping. They want to help you get started and introduce you to a group of peers for mutual support. https://www.phf.org.uk/funds/ideaspioneers/
Access and Participation Fund - Paul Hamlyn Foundation	The Foundation is interested in ensuring that a wider and more diverse group of people have access to quality artistic practice. They want to use their funding to support organisations to test, implement and develop ambitious plans to widen access to and deepen participation in the arts. It will not be enough to simply increase numbers – the emphasis is on addressing inequalities of opportunity and creating space to step back and look at the systemic problems preventing participation. They want to help organisations to build stronger evidence about what works so that they can improve practice and achieve greater impact. They will consider applications for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • New ways of working, or work with new audiences and participants that aim to uncover alternative models of engagement – together with a strong commitment to learning about these approaches and sharing your learning. • Work that involves any of the following: crafts, dance, design, digital arts and media, film, literature (including creative writing and poetry), music, opera, photography, theatre, the visual arts, and cross-arts practices. • Work that is focused on improving access to the arts as a social good in itself, promoting enjoyment, increased attendance and participation by people facing disadvantage and inequality of access. • Work that is focused on increasing arts access for people who may face barriers to participation due to disability or a health condition. (For detailed guidance on their current approach to supporting arts and health initiatives, please see ‘What won’t we fund’ on their website). • Work that uses access to and participation in the arts to promote social justice (e.g. by achieving outcomes such as personal development, employability, educational attainment, social development, community cohesion, well-being, etc.) • Work that develops excellence in participatory practice for example, by including an element of training for artists working in participatory settings • Work that supports organisations to embed digital solutions in widening access and participation in the arts. Applications are accepted on a rolling basis. https://www.phf.org.uk/funds/access-and-participation-fund/
Shared Ground	The Shared Ground Fund will provide organisations with the financial support

Fund – Paul Hamlyn Foundation	they need to test new approaches, explore ways of exploiting emerging opportunities and address new challenges in this area of great change and uncertainty. It will also support organisations with an already strong track record of achievement with substantial help to achieve a greater impact. Applicants must contribute to one of the following aims of the Shared Ground Fund: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Staying safe – ensuring that young people who have migrated can address the significant barriers that affect their ability to thrive • Living well together – supporting work which helps communities experiencing high levels of migration become stronger and more connected • The Shared Ground Fund offers two kinds of grants to support organisations at different stages of development: Shared Ground ‘explore and test’ grants – each year they expect to make around 10 grants to help explore and test new approaches and ways of addressing new challenges (awards will be for a maximum of £60,000, usually for up to two years) Shared Ground ‘more and better’ grants – each year they expect to make around 10 longer, larger grants to help develop and embed more established activities (awards will be for between £100,000 and £400,000 for up to four years). They expect most grants to be in the range of £100,000 – £250,000. Larger grants will be considered on an exceptional basis and usually by invitation. The Shared Ground Fund will only support work which has potential to have a wider impact on the policy and practice of others, or on the wider systems relevant to migration and integration. Applications are accepted on a rolling basis. https://www.phf.org.uk/funds/shared-ground-fund/
India Open Grants Fund – Paul Hamlyn Foundation	This Fund seeks to meet the Foundation’s strategic aim to enable vulnerable communities living in priority geographical areas to improve their lives. Many communities in India have inherent strengths which are often overlooked when modern development frameworks are used to view them. They have closely knit societies, progressive views and approaches to resource utilisation and sustainability, and are extremely conscious of their relationship with the environment. Their traditional knowledge has relevance to modern ways of living. But communities also face many challenges with inequality of opportunity, driven by a combination of social and systemic drivers that can be difficult to overcome without the right support. The opening up of spaces, development of infrastructure, particularly roads and the modern development process have all caused shifts for local communities.

	Movements, over time, of people to urban centres, driven by economic forces, have also transported some of these issues to urban centres. Urban development concerns emerge largely around building a balance between the hugely important roles that newly arrived communities have and will play and the ability of urban centres to provide for them. https://www.phf.org.uk/funds/india-open-grants/#aim-of-the-fund

Forthcoming Funds (Details Awaited)

Name of Fund	Description
WiFi4EU – European Commission	The European Commission is seeking to promote free Wi-Fi connectivity in public spaces such as parks, squares, public building, libraries, health centres, and museums everywhere in Europe through WiFi4EU. The budget of the WiFi4EU scheme is EUR 120 million between 2017 and 2019. It will support the installation of “state-of-the-art Wi-Fi equipment in the centres of community life.” The WiFi4EU scheme will be disbursed in a geographically balanced manner, so that high-speed connections can benefit both residents and visitors of thousands of local communities across the EU – at least 6,000 to 8,000 local communities by 2020. The WiFi4EU scheme will be open to public sector bodies – typically local authorities. It will fund the equipment and installation costs (internet access points), while the beneficiary will pay for the connectivity (internet subscription) and maintenance in good order of the equipment for 3 years. Local authorities will be encouraged to develop and promote their own digital services in areas such as e-government, e-health and e-tourism through a dedicated app. Projects will be selected on a first-come, first-serve basis. https://ec.europa.eu/digital-single-market/en/policies/wifi4eu-free-wi-fi-europeans
The Children’s Health Fund	This grant programme is currently closed to applications but we expect it to reopen shortly. Applications may only be made when the funding window is open, so it’s worthwhile planning (perhaps in not too much detail at this stage) what you could apply for if your charity operates in any of the areas eligible for grant funding, which are listed below. The aim of the Children’s Health Fund is to support programmes and schemes designed to improve children’s health and food education. Funds are distributed in two themed funding rounds each year. Funding is available for projects that provide good food for young people as part of holiday learning, play and activity programmes. To be eligible, clubs must: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Provide meals that align with the food and drink requirements (ie, School Food Standards England 2015) and other term time regulations (eg, food hygiene, food labelling); • Include enrichment activities such as sports, art and crafts, growing etc; • Provide holiday food provision for a minimum of three days a week over four weeks; • Implement relevant policies (e.g. health and safety, safeguarding, pastoral); and • Demonstrate a local partnership is in place which includes a

	representative from the Local Authority and/or health board. Grants of between £1,000 and £5,000 are available. Larger grants around the upper funding limit (£5,000) are normally for projects looking to expand their work. Match funding is welcomed and may be 'in kind' (i.e. non-cash contributions of time, equipment, space, and other items committed to the goals of the project). http://www.childrenshealthfund.org.uk/grants/
The Collaboration Fund	Advance notice of £10 million Fund to provide greater security for England's dairy farmers by improving transparency and integrity within the food supply chain and to support collaborative business models where producers can come together to strengthen their position or work jointly on specific areas of work (programme to open to applications in Autumn 2018). The scheme will be designed in consultation with the farming industry and will work by uniting those interested in co-operation. The funding will help these groups to formally establish, develop or expand, so that farmers and growers can take advantage of new market opportunities to help their businesses prosper. Further information about the Fund can be found on the GOV.UK website. https://www.gov.uk/government/news/new-measures-to-help-farmers-and-growers-in-the-food-supply-chain

Midsomer Norton Men's Shed	The Midsomer Men's Shed Project, part of Midsomer Norton Community Trust, launched on 1st June 2018. "The Shed will provide a place for men and women to come together where they can work on their own or community DIY projects – anything from making a garden planter to repairing a chair. As much as the work in hand, it's being together – working shoulder to shoulder and enjoying the company of others", said Richard Jordan, Community Trust Trustee for the Men's Shed Project. The Men's Shed concept started in Australia where they have been amazingly successful over the last 12 years – to the point where there are 900 sheds across the country. The Australian government has recognised the mental health benefits of Men's Sheds and now provide them with funding from the savings made from the reduced calls on their health service. Men's Sheds are now setting up all over the UK and as such it's great to see that once again our area is at the cutting edge. Membership is open to anyone over the age of 18 and costs £5.00 per annum and £3.00 per visit to the shed. To begin with the Shed will be open each Friday from 9am to 1pm at Farrington Farm shop. If you would like to join or find out more about how they might be able to help with a community diy project, visit www.midsomermensshed.co.uk. The Shed will be running a series of open mornings where you can find out more.

Consultations and Surveys

Integrated Communities Strategy green paper – Ministry of Housing, Communities & Local Government consultation – 5th June	The Integrated Communities Strategy green paper invites views on the government’s vision for building strong integrated communities where people – whatever their background – live, work, learn and socialise together, based on shared rights, responsibilities and opportunities. The green paper sets out a programme of actions the government proposes to take across government to deliver this vision at the local and national level. They want to hear from individuals, communities and organisations about the most effective ways to address integration challenges. This consultation closes on 5th June 2018. https://www.gov.uk/government/consultations/integrated-communities-strategy-green-paper
Litter and refuse: updating enforcement guidance – Department for Environment, Food & Rural Affairs	The government want to know what people think about their guidance on proportionate and effective use of fixed penalties for littering and related offences. The guidance is relevant for other environmental fixed penalty powers such as for abandoned vehicles, fly-tipping, parking, and offences related to domestic waste bins. The government committed in the Litter Strategy for England to publish improved guidance to promote proportionate and responsible enforcement. They intend to put this guidance into the Code of Practice on Litter and Refuse. Land managers in England have to have regard to this code. This consultation closes on 8th June 2018. https://www.gov.uk/government/consultations/litter-and-refuse-updating-enforcement-guidance

National Rural Crime Survey – 10th June	Rural residents are being urged to have their say in a major new survey about crime in the countryside. The National Rural Crime Survey aims to determine the true personal, social and economic cost of rural crime and anti-social behaviour across the country. The last survey took place in 2015, when 13,000 people responded to give their impressions of crime and anti-social behaviour. The results revealed the cost of rural crime to the country was significant – around £800m every year. Questions in the 2018 National Rural Crime Survey cover a range of issues – from whether people report crimes to the impact anti-social behaviour has on rural life. The survey also asks whether respondents believe enough is done to catch offenders. The survey is open for submissions until Sunday 10th June 2018. It is available at www.nationalruralcrimenetwork.net.

Grants to improve approaches to the educational achievement of 'looked after children' and young carers	The British and Foreign School Society	https://www.bfss.org.uk/grants/looked-after-children-and-young-carers/	This is the second round of a new grant programme aimed at improving approaches to the educational attainment of 'looked after children' and young carers in the UK. The British and Foreign School Society's (BFSS) grant-making policy is to focus on smaller projects where its funding will comprise a significant proportion of the total project cost. It therefore tends to reject applications from large charities in favour of smaller charitable organisations. The British and Foreign School Society will	Monday 27th August for decisions to be made in October 2018.

			provide grants in support of the following outcomes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Looked after children and young carers are provided supplementary support that results in improved educational attainment • Interventions made in the delivery of supplementary educational support for looked after children and young carers are proven to be effective and scaleable • There is greater alignment and coherence in the work of the voluntary sector, ensuring more successful educational outcomes for looked after children and young carers. (Please note that BFSS does not expect applications to this third outcome as it will address this by convening workshops to share experience and support collaborative work.) Registered UK charities and organisations with officially recognised charitable status, such as a Charitable Incorporated Organisation (CIO) or a school, college or university with exempt status may apply. The level of funding available will vary, but the BFSS will favour applications for over £20,000 annually for up to 3 years (i.e. over £60,000). Funding is for project costs, which can include staff salaries as well as a limited contribution towards overheads.

			Some element of match funding contribution is expected. The funding will support work that develops sustainable approaches that can be replicated at scale. For example: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Pedagogically (the study of the methods and activities of teaching) proven models of how educational interventions can be made to best effect • Development of approaches based on a combination of paid staff and trained volunteers • Development of practical tools and resources that allow looked after children and young carers (and their family members) to receive support and grasp positive opportunities • Policy and practice for looked after children and young carers that values and prioritises education as a way of enhancing life chances. The work should be: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Clear about the impact it will make and how this will be measured, providing an evidence base for the effectiveness of the work; and • Carried out in partnership with Local Authorities, schools and other organisations (including fellow grantees), that have responsibility for the education of Looked after

			children and young carers. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> This approach represents a new way of working for BFSS which wants to understand and learn from what makes a real difference to the educational outcomes of looked after children and young carers, and improve future practice as a result.

Core Strength	Comic Relief (administered locally by Quartet Community Foundation)	http://quartetcf.org.uk/grant-programmes/comic-relief/	Funding for Core Costs. Grants up to £10,000 available. This programme is responding to the growing need of small locally led groups to cover their day to day costs. The aim is to provide funding for groups' core costs – meaning expenditure that is not connected to delivering projects but focusing on investing in the organisation as a whole, such as basic running costs. We know securing core funding can be tough and want to use this programme to help support those doing much needed work in their local communities.	Last deadline was 15 th February 2018. See website for updates.

			People living in areas of disadvantage or who face social issues often get vital support from smaller local groups based within their communities. It is these locally based groups that truly understand the needs of the people they serve and make a huge difference to their lives. However, recent research shows that small and medium sized organisations across the UK are being hit particularly hard by the current economic climate, forcing many to either scale back or dissolve completely. These organisations urgently need core funding to continue their crucial work. There are still many communities in the UK that work in areas of economic and social deprivation and disadvantage and the current economic climate may make this situation worse. Comic Relief wants to recognise the importance of local community organisations and the pivotal role they play across the UK. That is why they have developed this exciting programme to fund organisational costs only and not direct project delivery – Comic Relief hope this goes some way to help ensure organisations continue to sustain themselves and support their local communities. What can you apply for? A grant shall be used to support groups that can evidence a sustained beneficial impact on people’s lives who are excluded or disadvantaged – this may be through low income, rural or social

Support for mental health, armed forces, young people and conservation	The Royal Foundation of the Duke and Duchess of Cambridge and Prince Harry	https://www.royalfoundation.com/about-our-foundation/	This Foundation aims to be a leading philanthropic investor. It uses its time and resources to create lasting change in targeted areas and geographies, based on need, and in line with the interests of the patrons. It seeks to invest in, or partner with, organisations with proven impact, using its profile and leverage to create a multiplier effect in resources, outcomes and knowledge	No unsolicited grant applications but does select causes to work with.

			The Royal Foundation does not accept unsolicited grant applications but is proactive in selecting the causes it chooses to work with. Therefore, if you work in any of the Foundation's key priority areas, it may be worth making contact via their website. The Foundation's key areas of interest are: Mental Health: working with a wide range of charities that provide frontline support to people who may need it, the Heads Together campaign was launched in April 2016, to reduce stigma associated with talking about mental health problems, remove the barriers associated with seeking support, and to give people more information about where to go. Military: The Royal Foundation is promoting the welfare of those who are serving, or have served, in the Armed Forces through a range of initiatives, such as the Endeavour Fund and the Veteran's Employment programme. The Royal Foundation focuses on improving the outcomes of those leaving the Armed Forces by better transition to civilian life. Young People: The Duke and Duchess of Cambridge and Prince Harry believe that children and young people should get the best possible help and care through difficult times in their lives.

			The Royal Foundation is therefore funding a range of initiatives, from projects supporting young people affected by youth violence, to inspiring those interested in building a career in sports coaching, from supporting families affected by parental substance misuse, to helping families of children with life-limiting, or life-threatening conditions. The Royal Foundation is committed to working through all these projects to enhance the lives of children and young people across the country. Conservation: The Royal Foundation has brought together seven of the largest international conservation organisations under the banner of United for Wildlife. This is a long-term commitment to scale up the response to conservation crises, and to engage 15- 30 year olds in conservation. The Foundation also supports initiatives to counter and raise awareness about cyberbullying.

The American Express Philanthropic Programme	American Express	http://about.americanexpress.com/csr/howto.aspx	The American Express Philanthropic Programme operates worldwide but some areas and countries, including the United Kingdom, are prioritised. The programme provides grant funding for projects by not-for-profit organisations that address either of the following 2 priorities: 1. Community Service Supported programmes must encourage community service and civic participation, and deliver measurable outcomes that have a lasting impact on communities through one or more of the following	Ongoing

			<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Building the capacity of not-for-profits by assisting them in developing, engaging and retaining community members as volunteers • Encouraging citizens to play an active role in civic processes (for example, democratic processes or voting); • Engaging community members and American Express employees in ongoing service. This may include a variety of activities from promoting individual philanthropy, volunteering or participation in local civic organisations. 2. Leadership The Leadership Programme seeks the best methods, programmes and partners that provide current and future not-for-profit leaders with practical opportunities to learn and build leadership skills. It is especially interested in proposals that cultivate leadership opportunities for diverse communities within the not-for-profit sector or projects that focus on innovative leadership development programmes for emerging leaders of world-class institutions. Applications may be made at any time. There are no minimum or maximum funding levels as American Express like to judge each application on its own merits. There is an eligibility checker to complete before applying.

Public Service Mutuals Support Programme	DCMS	https://www.gov.uk/guidance/mutuals-support-programme-2	Public service mutuals are organisations that have left the public sector but continue delivering public services. There are many forms of mutual. For example, employee-owned businesses like John Lewis or building societies such as Nationwide which are fully or majority owned by their members. However, Mutuals can also be co-operatives or social enterprises. With public services under pressure, the Department for Digital, Culture, Media and Sport (DCMS) is looking for new ways of delivering public services that meet and exceed people's expectations and provide value for money to the taxpayer. The government asserts that the mutual model can be a viable alternative to delivering public services, compared to in-house or traditional outsourcing. The DCMS is funding a package of support programmes to support public sector organisations across England to start a Public Service Mutual, and to support existing mutuals to thrive. There are no minimum or maximum grant levels. The programme has a budget of £1.7 million. A total of £1.2 million will be available to create new	Open until March 2020

Charities, Digital Technology and Young People	Charities are failing to use digital technology effectively to help disadvantaged young people, according to a recent report by the think tank NPC. "My Best Life: Priorities for Digital Technology in the Youth Sector" says that many charities using digital technology do not consider the circumstances many disadvantaged people face. The 31-page report is based on 12 months of research with young people experiencing multiple disadvantages in the London borough of Camden. The young people were asked how digital technology could be used to tackle the challenges and opportunities they faced in building better lives for themselves. Common problems were low levels of digital literacy outside social media, insufficient resources to pay for devices except mobile phones and the cost of data on phones. The proposals in the report include developing an app similar to Google Maps that would allow disadvantaged young people to find and review the local support they require, such as mental health services. The report also suggests using chat bots on phones to enable young people to ask questions about simple day-to-day support on issues such as benefits and housing.	https://www.thinknpc.org/publications/my-best-life-priorities-for-digital-technology-in-the-youth-sector/
goDonate	A new digital platform aims to help smaller charities increase the number of donations they receive online with a more simplified donation system. Billed at the 'next generation donation platform', goDonate has been designed to improve the online experience for donors and increase the	https://addition.london/Products/GoDonate

	chances of supporters completing the donation process. The number of fields donors have to fill has been reduced by including payment technologies such as Apple Pay, Google Pay and PayPal, with the information pulled from their digital wallets used elsewhere. Vicky Reeves, managing director of creators, Addition, said there was a "misconception" within the sector that supporters would complete a donation when they visited a charity's website with the intention of donating. "Statistics show that a significant number of potential donors do not go on to donate," Reeves said. "They can be put off by a poor user experience, having to complete lengthy forms or having security concerns about submitting their details." She said that by creating a user-friendly platform these issues had been addressed. "If donors are using payment technologies such as Apple Pay, they will need to complete only the donation amount – if that is not already pre-populated – a consent statement and the Gift Aid declaration," Reeves said. "So there will be no need for name, address, bank details and so on because those are already known. This reduces the donation process to within three seconds." Addition created the system after the success of its Enterprise platform, designed for larger charities such as the NSPCC, the Stroke Association and the Alzheimer's Society. Smaller and medium-sized organisations had expressed interest in a similar system that wouldn't be as expensive to install. The Fire Fighters Charity began using goDonate at the beginning of March, since when its number of monthly donations has increased by 49 per cent.
Free guide for	A guide aimed at helping charities defend digital risk has been published by

Charities on Cyber Crime	the specialist insurer Ecclesiastical and the Charities Security Forum. The free Charity Cyber Guide provides organisations with information on the range of cyber threats they could face, from ransomware, malware and denial of service to phishing, password attacks and human error. It also offers practical advice on mitigating such risks, including guidance on protection against data breaches. The new guide has been put together after research by the insurer that found 17% of charities had experienced cyber attacks, with ransomware top of the list. 63% expressed concern about cyber and internet crime. Ecclesiastical's charity director, David Britton, said: "After several years of high-profile attacks on larger corporations and businesses, there is now a growing trend of cyber attackers turning their attention towards organisations that might have a lower level of cyber security, including charities. "It's clear from our research that even the threat of an attack is acting as a barrier to some charities innovating, and there's a growing recognition that the long-term reputational damage to the charity and its trustees can be just as serious as the initial loss of data and the costs of putting things right."	https://www.ecclesiastical.com/images/charity-cyber-guide.pdf
Legacy Fundraising	Legacies can be a challenging area for charitable organisations because it can be a difficult and sensitive issue to broach, yet legacies are generally the biggest gifts received by charities from individuals. Gifts in wills are now estimated to be worth £2.8bn a year to UK charities, with the average residual bequest standing at £46,000, according to Legacy Foresight's latest Legacy Giving report. This represents by far the largest source of voluntary income to the sector.	www.RememberaCharity.org.uk

	Nearly 16% of all charitable legacies are left to animal charities. The Code of Fundraising Practice and its associated Rulebooks for Street, Door and Private Site Fundraising outline the standards expected of all charitable fundraising organisations across the UK. The Code sets out the law and best practice for a range of fundraising techniques. The standards were developed by the fundraising community through the work of the Institute of Fundraising (IoF) and Public Fundraising Association (PFRA), which has now merged with the Institute of Fundraising. The Legacies section of the Code and Legacy Fundraising guidance establishes a series of criteria to be observed by charities to ensure that legacy fundraising is undertaken in a professional, responsible and sensitive manner. Remember A Charity is a consortium of over 140 charities which promote legacy giving. Based at the Institute of Fundraising, the group encourage more people to leave gifts to charity in their Will, after looking after their friends and family. The Institute of Fundraising website has a useful video of an Introduction to Legacy Fundraising, which is free to view. Remember a Charity offers the following 10 useful tips for effective legacy fundraising. Further information is available on the Remember a Charity website. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Be proud of legacies - a legacy may be seen as reflection of someone's life, values and experiences. 2. Family first - for many people with children, the idea of leaving money to charity could be seen as disinheriting your family. So it is important to use 'family first' messaging to overcome this barrier, such as 'after providing for your loved ones, please consider leaving us a share of what is left'.

3. Drip the message - legacy giving should be seen as a normal act, not as a taboo. It should be part of everyday supporter conversations.

4. Know your audience - think carefully about the groups that are most likely to want to leave a gift to your cause. The more specific you can be the better. This allows you to define your audiences, understand their motivations and target them accordingly.

5. Know your story - you need to be able to explain the difference their gift will make. You are asking people to leave a gift that will achieve something big in the future, and you should be able to communicate your legacy message simply.

6. A conversation works best - Research from Remember a Charity shows that if you spend just 45 minutes talking to each of your donors they will actively consider leaving you a gift.

7. Make it easy - one of the inherent problems with legacy fundraising is that making a Will is something we love to put off. So it is important to make it as easy as possible for people to make a Will and leave you a legacy. Consider your website – how is it easy to find your legacy pages or download a copy of your brochure?

8. Use the right language - it can more accessible to talk about 'gifts in Wills'. Be clear what you mean and avoid jargon (the Institute of Fundraising, from which much of this article is sourced, has produced a jargon-busting briefing to help organisations get to terms with the language of legacy fundraising).

	9. Measure what you do - Remember A Charity suggests measuring the volume of your communications, the feedback you receive and the numbers of legacies per year. 10. Look after your supporters - the simplest piece of advice is to treat your supporters well. The warmer they feel about you and the longer the relationship, the more likely they are to consider leaving you a gift.
Cyber Security of Charities	The National Centre for Cyber Security (NCSC) has published an assessment of the cyber threats facing UK charities and a guide to help charities protect themselves against malicious cyber activity. The NCSC's Cyber Threat Assessment report has revealed reveals how charities' valuable funds, supporter details and information on beneficiaries are being targeted. The Small Charity Guide outlines easy and low-cost steps to protect from attacks. It includes expert advice focused on backing-up data, using strong passwords, protecting against malware, keeping devices safe and avoiding phishing attacks.	https://www.ncsc.gov.uk/guidance/cyber-security-small-charity-guide-pdf-download

Foundation for Social Improvement - Small Charity Index	The Small Charity Index demonstrates the challenges small charities face in securing funding to deliver the vital services they provide for their local communities. In the years post the 2007/08 financial crisis, funds to support local services, especially from Local Authorities (a statutory source) decreased. Small charities, who deliver local services specifically in the areas of health and social welfare, therefore continue to face a challenging commissioning environment. By tracking the experiences in income generation across statutory, voluntary and earned income sources, this report shows how small charities continue to be affected by economic uncertainty, placing pressure on securing funds to remain sustainable in the long term. New fundraising opportunities have emerged, such as social investment and online giving, however these new opportunities are not necessarily appropriate for all charities, and many continue to struggle to replace the income lost through the austerity cuts and the challenging economic climate. Therefore overall, the Small Charity Index paints a picture of income stagnation, at least for the Small Charity Sector. To access the most recent Quarterly Review of the Small Charity Index, which covers the period December to February 2017, visit their website	http://www.thefsi.org/policyresearch/scindex/

Free Paint – Community Repaint	A national paint reuse network, sponsored by Dulux, that collects leftover paint and redistributes it to benefit individuals, families, communities and charities in need. The network is run on a day to day basis by Resource Futures, an environmental consultancy. Currently the network is made up of over 70 schemes and redistributes over 330,000 litres of paint each year. The paint re-use network has helped local groups and charities refresh shared spaces and create colourful murals for the community; enabled people on low income to redecorate their homes at low cost and provided employment, training and volunteer opportunities that build valuable skills and experience. For further information, visit the Community RePaint website:	https://communityrepaint.org.uk/the-uks-paint-reuse-network/

Free items – Warp It	WARP IT – Free resources for not-for-profits Organisations often have surplus resources which they no longer need but are in good condition. Warp It was created to make sure these items can be passed to organisations carrying out charitable activities in a safe and legal manner. Warp It is free to all charities, not for profit's, social enterprises, community groups and groups which are not commercial but offer a social service.	https://www.warp-it.co.uk/charities

	Charities can sign up and, by linking up with local organisations, receive notifications of surplus items in their area. Benefiting organisations do not have to be a charity with a charity number: they just need to be carrying out a social benefit to the community. Charitable groups can benefit from Warp It in a number of ways: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Get access to surplus resources in their area and nationally. This will save you money that can then be spent on charitable activities. • Collaborate and make connections with other organisations in an area. • Furniture and bulky waste charities can distribute their own goods on Warp It for other charities, individuals or organisations to claim • Transport charities can advertise their services for the transfer of goods from one organisation to another • National charities can use the system to advertise their resources around their own networks • Furniture refurbishment charities can advertise their services to members • Furniture and bulky waste charities can advertise their services to members. There are two types of account, one for small to medium sized not-for-profits and another for larger, and/or national charities.

This could include : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • assisting you in the planning or delivery of an event • pre-Xmas activity planning eg maybe doing a small amount of fundraising to provide Xmas decorations • collating a collection for you eg food or arts and crafts items or good quality items for a charity shop • organising a simple event like afternoon tea for your client group • using their skills - marketing, strategy and planning, finance - to carry out a piece of work for you or provide training • Helping to raise the profile of your charity The students involved in this scheme are international and will be put into teams of other students that they have probably not met before. Therefore part of their challenge may well include language and cultural barriers, as well as the short time given to deliver the project but they usually really embrace the opportunity and will go above and beyond the brief to deliver a successful event. However, your time will be needed to support them as this is a learning experience for these students and things may go wrong but it's how they then deal with these problems that is a key learning curve for them. Your project will be helping them to develop their teamwork, problem solving, communication and leadership skills to name but a few! For an application form, contact Mike Plows at the Volunteer Centre by 31st August 2017. You will need to give as much detail as possible about the challenge and the benefits for you or your client group. Social Prescribing – Just Do It An Article from Clarity ‘CIC’	Social prescribing, essentially enabling people to find and use support services in their community that will improve their health and wellbeing, should be going mainstream. It seems to me blindingly obvious that such an approach is a good thing. But much more importantly, there is now considerable evidence that it works. Take a look at the articles on social prescribing on the Healthy London Partnership NHS and the King's Fund websites (links below). The evidence shows it works for patients, carers and their families and it works for the system. That is, it can save money by reducing hospital admissions and enabling people to stay healthier and independent for longer.	http://www.claritycic.org/clearly-news.html https://wiki.healthy london.org/Social_Prescribing https://www.kingsfund.org.uk/publications/social-prescribing

It is not difficult to see the logic. The benefits of getting more people to use services that already have a well evidenced track record – be it in mental health, physical fitness, housing, debt management and reducing loneliness doesn't require a great leap of faith. And yet we are still seeing a lot of effort, and money, going into further research, scoping, modelling and business cases.

At the end of last year two next door areas in the South West received separate Life Chances Fund development grants (now closed to Expressions of Interest) to work up proposals for social prescribing in their areas. Thank goodness they are collaborating and I know every area is different (to an extent). But isn't about time that the money that is available focussed on putting social prescribing into practice? I suspect it is endemic across our culture but there really does seem to be a prevailing "not evidenced here" syndrome.

OK, in many ways Rotherham (a well-recognised social prescribing case study) is very different to, say, Devon. But in both areas: people go to their GP; GPs are generally not well equipped to help people access local support services; the health and care system is under massive financial pressure; and there is a common desire to help people stay healthier and more independent for longer.

Of course, the way social prescribing is delivered and how it builds on existing practice and provision will need to be designed to meet local circumstances.

But the overall concept is clear, simple and should now be universal. Simon Stevens and Jeremy Hunt need to use their financial and policy levers to make it happen.

New Bill enabling a CIC to convert to a CIO.	Parliament has passed legislation that will enable a Community Interest Company (CIC) and charities with company structures to convert more quickly into a Charitable Incorporated Organisation (CIO). CIOs, which allow charities to enter into contracts as corporate entities with limited liability for trustees and members, were included in the Charities Act 2006. After lengthy delays, they finally became a new legal structure in 2013. Since then 12,500 CIOs have registered with the Charity Commission. This recent legislation will allow charities wishing to convert to do so swiftly as part of a phased timetable (see below) just announced by the Commission. The timetable allows organisations with annual incomes of less than £12,500 to be the first to convert. Organisations with incomes above £500,000 will need to wait until August 2018. The timetable is as follows:	https://www.gov.uk/guidance/change-your-charity-structure

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Monday 1 January 2018 for CICs with an annual income of £12,500 or less; • Thursday 1 March 2018 for CICs with an annual income of between £12,500 and £25,000; • Tuesday 1 May 2018 for CICs with an income of between £25,000 and £100,000; • Friday 1 June 2018 for CICs with an annual income of between £100,000 and £250,000; • Sunday 1 July 2018 for CICs with an annual income of between £250,000 and £500,000; and • Wednesday 1 August 2018 for CICs with an annual income of greater than £500,000. Further information about how a charity structure can be changed is available on the GOV.UK website.

Matchmaking Service for small businesses seeking finance that have been turned down by banks.	Nine of the UK's biggest banks have undertaken to pass on the details of small businesses they have rejected for finance to four finance platforms: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Funding Xchange • Business Finance Compared • Funding Options. • Alternative Business Funding Ltd 	https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/designation-of-banks-and-finance-platforms-for-finance-platforms-regulations

	These platforms will then share these details with alternative finance providers and go on to facilitate a conversation between the business and any provider who expresses an interest in supplying finance to them. The arrangements are designed to make it easier for businesses to access finance when they have been turned down by traditional lenders. RBS, Lloyds, HSBC, Barclays, Santander, Clydesdale and Yorkshire Bank, Bank of Ireland, Danske Bank and First Trust Bank, will all have to offer access to these finance platforms, with small business having to give their permission before their details are shared. The scheme is expected to give businesses additional opportunities to secure funding, alternative providers access to a bigger market of potential clients, and major banks an extra service to offer their business clients when they cannot themselves provide finance.

Lloyds Bank launches £500 million Growth Fund	Lloyds Banking Group has opened a £500 million pound loan fund to help British businesses finance equipment. Essentially, this is the same £500 million scheme the bank opened a couple of years ago for the agricultural sector, but now its remit has been widened to include manufacturing, construction and transport. The scheme targets small and medium-sized companies which banks froze out of credit following the financial crisis. The bank said the fund will deliver quick access to finance by allowing companies to spread the cost of assets over their lifetime, enabling big investments that don't eat into working capital. The government sees small and medium-sized companies as key to unlocking higher productivity, which has fallen back to below pre-crisis levels this year, and to the success of the UK economy post-Brexit. These businesses have struggled to invest in the decade since the financial crisis as banks have shied away from lending to smaller businesses.	Interested parties can phone either of the Bank's two 24-hour helpline/contact numbers: 0345 300 0000 or 01733 347 007. PLEASE NOTE: these are not Freephone numbers - calls are charged at a local rate.
Research on mental health and social relationships	Mental illness has huge cost implications for society and the NHS in terms of lost work days and healthcare. Research into the health effect of social networks and interaction could inform cost-efficient mental health initiatives and policies. Depression, anxiety and other psychological conditions cost the UK an estimated £77 billion a year. Experts predict that by 2020 depression will be second only to heart disease as an international health problem. Social isolation has long been known as a key trigger for mental illness, while supportive relationships with friends, family and neighbours are beneficial to the mental health of individuals and the population. Other	http://www.esrc.ac.uk/news-events-and-publications/evidence-briefings/mental-health-and-social-relationships/

	forms of social interaction such as volunteering are also known to boost wellbeing. People with supportive friends and family generally have better mental and physical health than those who lack these networks. The same is true for those who take part in churches, clubs and voluntary organisations. It is only by analysing people's lives over time within a structural, social and cultural context that we can establish whether social relationships really do contribute to better health and increased wellbeing – or whether better health and more energy in the first place enable people to invest in relationships with family and friends. Researchers at the ESRC-funded International Centre for Lifecourse Studies In Society and Health have examined how social networks have a positive psychological impact. Attachment theory suggests that people with secure childhoods may be better at relationships of any kind – for instance making friends at school and work, or getting on well with neighbours. This theory can only be tested by looking at information over the span of a person's life, preferably from birth to old age. For further information and key findings, see the website to the right.
Fundraising Advice – Hold a Fast Party	The idea behind a Fast Party is not to plough through the buffet at a party as quickly as possible, but to 'fast' - as in abstaining from eating. A Fast Party is actually a non-event, whereby people are invited to a party that isn't going to take place. This type of fundraiser works particularly well with well-known charitable organisations with a strong supporter base either locally or nationally. Guests are asked to go without one meal on a specific date and to contribute the money that would otherwise be spend on the meal to your not-for-profit. The advantage of this fundraising idea is that it: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Requires very little organising • Doesn't require a venue

- Has very little financial outlay - all you're paying for is the cost of the invitations (and you could get a sponsor for this in return for a bit of advertising)
- Can be quite easy to obtain sponsorship.

Disadvantages are relatively few. The main drawback is that supporters who may already be contributing to the charity or cause may feel 'put upon' by another request for help.

It's also a fundraising idea you should be wary of overusing. It's okay as a witty, fun one-off activity, but at best this should be an annual event and possibly take place even less frequently.

To organise a Fast Party, find a couple or several friends to help write a Guest List and put together an eye-catching, well-designed and witty invitation (for example, 'Mr and Mrs Smith have pleasure in not requesting your company.....' or 'Guests of Honour will not include...").

You could also print an unappetising menu on the back of the invitation to show 'participants' that they've had a lucky escape. Include a vegetarian option.

Print the invitations on good quality card (you guests may want the option of displaying the invitation on their mantelpiece) and include a self-addressed envelope or set up an online payment system so that participants can make their financial contribution easily - or you could just pop round to a supporters' house to collect their donation.

Make sure that cheques are made out to the charity or cause rather than to an individual, which could lead you open to criticism or, worse, accusations of fraud. Tickets to the party could be £5 per person, £8 per couple or £10 per family, whatever you think is appropriate for your supporters.

	The advantage for 'participants' is that they don't have to do anything to participate. A Fast Party enables them to show their support for a cause at a relatively low cost without having to spend much effort, plan, or use up valuable time and effort. In terms of return, most Fast Parties report at least 50% of invitees making a donation. Some may not wish to participate but may still be willing to make a donation. Finally, always send a short thank-you letter, telling donors how the funding will be used and the difference it will make!

Fundraising – Auctions of Promises	Auctions of Promises tend to be most successful when held on the back of another event when equipment and furniture is already available. A good Auction of Promises (50 lots takes about an hour to get through if you have a good auctioneer) can often raise £1,000 or more. An Auction of Promises is held on identical lines to a conventional auction, but the 'lots' are quite different. Each lot is a 'Promise', usually written on individual slips of paper and signed and dated by the person offering the promise. Promises are secured by asking around your contacts, private companies or prominent individuals in the community, such as the Mayor or your local MP. It's a good idea to have a wide selection of lots, for example, handmade goods, offers of help, vouchers, special opportunities and donated items. Example of promises can include:

- Theatre tickets
- Having your car(s) cleaned
- A free round of golf
- A week's holiday in a country cottage or an apartment overseas
- A free meal at a local restaurant

To organise an Auction of Promises, follow these steps:

1. Get together a small group of helpers or form a committee;
2. Decide on a date and a venue and apply for an occasional licence if you intend to run a bar, which could usefully increase the amount of funding raised;
3. Find an auctioneer who will ideally volunteer their time. If you can get one, a professional auctioneer will bring a sense of authenticity as well as ensuring the auction moves along at a brisk pace. If someone other than an experienced auctioneer wants to do it, it's essential they have a presence;
4. Proactively seek donations and promises. Make sure you get specific commitments from people or companies. Type up the promises and get them signed before the donor can pull out! Make it clear the offer is available for a limited period only, for instance 6 months or a year.
5. Prepare a catalogue showing images and the running order of all the lots which can be shown online or handed out at the event. It can help if you publish a reserve price for each lot to give participants an idea of where to begin bidding.

To keep things interesting:

Include a Surprise Auction: keep 2-3 popular lots in unmarked envelopes. Announce that the next lot is one of the unmarked promises, but bidders won't know which one it is. Participants make 'blind bids' and the successful bidder receives a surprise (it's important not to announce the lots until all have been auctioned). Include a Sealed Bid Auction: this is where you display the lots and make pens, papers and envelopes available. Bidders place their bids in sealed envelopes and place them in a box. The winners are announced at the end of the Promises Auction. It's worth bearing in mind that Sealed Bid Auctions don't generally raise as much funding. At the end of the Auction, try to encourage all successful bidders to pay before they leave. Thank the auctioneer with a bottle of wine and flowers. Make sure you have sufficient volunteers to clear up. After the event, thank your donors, volunteers and successful bidders and let them know how much has been raised and how the funds will be used. Ensure the Auction is reported in the local and social media (this can also be done in real-time during the event), together with the amount raised. An Auction of Promises is a great PR opportunity because you can gain additional publicity as people redeem their promises throughout the 6 months or year. Finally, think about making it an annual event to develop your commercial and public supporter base!

Localgiving	Localgiving's Grow Your Tenner, 'the campaign that turns tenners into twenties' is returning for a sixth year of match funding. It launches on 17th October 2017. This year the campaign has a match fund pot of £200,000, with £100,000 for matching one-time donations and £100,000 for matching monthly donations.	https://localgiving.org/what-we-do/campaigns/grow-your-tenner

Crowdfunding - Spacehive	Spacehive is a crowd-funding platform which provides a single portal where people with project ideas can build support from their local community, ensure their plans are viable, pitch for funding from the crowd and partners at the same time, and share the impact they've created. When organisations create a project on Spacehive they're automatically matched with all of the funds that match the same criteria. For example, a Community Garden project will get matched to a Green Space fund in the same way a playground in Manchester will get matched to Manchester funds. You can get your project matched, pitch your project to funds and attract additional support from partners to help bring your project to life. Currently, a number of funds are available to support community projects, including:	https://www.spacehive.com/

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Better Communities Fund - to support projects which get your community active! From organising a 100 metre sprint on your high street to revamping a 5-a-side football pitch • Esmee Fairbairn Community Fund - for projects that bring communities together and have a lasting impact • The Growing a Greener Britain Fund - for creative and innovative ideas that enhance greenery across the country, like building a park on a disused rail line in the sky, creating a community garden, or installing a wifi network in a park, whatever you think will make your local greenspace an even better place to be • The UnLtd Spaces for Change Fund - to empower young people to improve unused or under used spaces within their communities For more details and information about other funds offering pledges, visit the Spacehive website.

Support with Applying for Funding	HHJ Consultancy is established in the South East and now setting up in the South West. They would like to support small charities and community groups to raise much needed funds for their work and on-going sustainability. Last year, they raised over £300,000 for groups. They do not charge for their service until the money they apply for has been received by the group they are supporting. All they ask in return is that the group pays 15% of the total raised. If they are unsuccessful in obtaining funding, they do not ask for any payment. They are also able to construct the evaluation and monitoring of the use of the monies on a group's behalf.	For further information contact Heather Harrington-James by e-mail to hhjconsultancy@outlook.com

	including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Business planning • Business networking • Marketing and advertising • Negotiation • Project management skills and techniques • Sales training and selling theories • SWOT analysis There's also resources on team building, leadership and management, personal development, motivational quotes and even sayings to help relieve stress in the workplace, such as this one by Dame Anita Roddick, 1942-2007 probably best known as the founder of the Body Shop): "If you think you're too small to have an impact, try going to bed with a mosquito in the room."
Study into what encourages people to give to charity and what puts people off (and other reports)	NFP Synergy released two reports recently looking at what encourages people to give to charity and what puts people off from giving. The top four factors that encourage people to give are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The charity is clear about what donations are spent on (56%); • Learning about the impact which the charity has (47%); • Positive stories about the charity in the media (37%); • Case stories/stories about individuals that have been helped (33%). Different age groups tend to be motivated by different factors, so those over 55 years old are more likely to want the charity to be clear about what its donations are spent on, as well wanting more information about impact. In contrast people under the age of 35 want case stories much more than	https://nfpsynergy.net/free-reports-and-presentations

	older groups (40%+ for the under 35s vs around 30% for the other age groups), as well as fundraising events to take part in, thank you's, celebrity endorsements, and volunteering opportunities. All age groups want good stories in the media, and a strong media presence. Donors like to see great case studies and human stories - a clear mix of the information that motivates and inspires, and information that convinces them their donation isn't being wasted. More interesting perhaps is how young people want more than other age groups: they wanted to be engaged as a whole supporter: to give and to volunteer, to take part and be thanked. WHAT PUTS PEOPLE OFF? The most significant factor that puts people off from giving to charity is the persistence and intrusiveness of fundraising. Irritation with fundraising rises steadily with age, peaking at the 55-64 year old age group. However fundraising is not the main barrier to people giving. This remains 'too little money actually going to the cause' at 54%. The second highest factor that puts people off from giving is 'too much money spent on staff salaries' at 43%. The reports, along with many other useful resources, are available on NFP's website under the 'Free Resources' tab.
Cyber Attacks	The Charity Commission is urging charities to be 'vigilant' in protecting their organisation from ransomware attacks and to follow protection advice recently issued by the National Cyber Security Centre. The Charity Commission, the independent regulator of charities in England and Wales, warns that the vulnerabilities exploited by the hackers over the last few days are the same for charities as they are for individuals, public or private sector organisations. The following information is relevant to all voluntary,	https://www.gov.uk/government/news/ransomware-threat-keep-your-charity-safe

Soup Fundraisers	‘Soups’ are a recent fundraising idea, imported from Detroit in America, that has gathered momentum in the UK over the last 18-24 months and also includes a public vote, although in this instance this is restricted to those attending the Soup event. ‘Soup’ is designed first and foremost to be a great night out. For £5, audiences get a bowl of fresh, locally made soup, bread and sometimes a small slice of cake and music from local acts. The centrepiece of the night is pitches from local community groups, each getting five minutes to tell people about projects that need funding followed by a quick question and answer. The audience then votes for the one they like best, and the winner gets the pot of donations taken on the door. Successful soup nights often receive support from local businesses which provide in-kind support with soup/bread/cake making. It is not unusual for businesses attending soups to offer those pitching in-kind support, equipment etc whether they win the pot or not.	Bath has its own soup organised by the B&NES Volunteer Centre and Midsomer Norton held its first soup in March 2017. Edinburgh Soup is very happy to provide advice on how to start a Soup Night. Gift Aid	When people donate to a registered charity or a Community Amateur Sports Club (CASC), it's from an income they've usually already been taxed on. Charities can therefore reclaim the equivalent of the basic rate of tax, increasing the value of the donation made. For every £1 donated, the charity can claim an extra 25p, so each £1 can become £1.25 for the cause. There are special rules for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Funds from sponsored challenges (for example: overseas treks or marathons); • Charity membership fees; • Church collections; • Selling goods on behalf of individuals (for example through a charity shop); • Charity events or to view charity property; • Charity auctions; • Volunteer expenses donated back to a charity or CASC; and • Funds raised through charities involved in running schools 	https://www.gov.uk/claim-gift-aid/what-you-can-claim-it-on

	For your contribution to qualify for Gift Aid, you must pay enough UK tax to cover the amount the charity will reclaim. You'll also need to make a Gift Aid declaration if you want the organisation to make the claim, and many charities will include this on their donation forms. The giver must confirm that this is a Gift Aid donation and that they have paid enough UK tax to cover the reclaimed amount. You can make a declaration that covers an individual donation, contributions made during the previous six years and all future gifts to an organisation. If you pay more than the basic rate of tax you can benefit from your donation as well. Donors paying 40 per cent tax can claim back the remaining tax for themselves by requesting a P810 Tax Review, or adding it to a Self Assessment tax return.
