November 2017

New for November 2017

PLEASE NOTE: Any items listed in italics are open to registered charities only.

At the end of the Funding Journal there is a new advice section with articles on running voluntary groups, holding fund-raising activities and applying for grants.

The best way to use the Journal to look for funding is to pick key words such as 'young people' and use the 'find' facility on your computer.

Successful Local Bids

Quartet is keen to promote the Bath and West Community Energy (BWCE) Fund as its current deadline is 17th November 2017. Don't be put off by the name of this fund - it is not about funding energy! One of the successful applicants to it in a previous round was Time Bank Plus in Twerton. They used the funding to set up their 'Borrow It' library of things. This enables local people to share resources and borrow items such as gardening tools, camping equipment, tools (especially drills), and even a carpet cleaner. Viv Talbot, Manager at Time Bank Plus, told members at the Bath and West Community Energy AGM on 27th September how delighted Time Bank Plus was with the response to the project and the donations of useful items. Viv said: "The 'Borrow it' project has attracted a lot of interest in the local area and we are very grateful to the BWCE Fund for the grant to set it up".

Quartet also want to remind you about the Smoke Free Sports Club Grant as the closing date for this is 27th November 2017. This provides £500 to clubs that coach young people aged 6 - 17 in B&NES and commit to providing a smoke free environment when they are training or playing in fixtures. Applications from smaller clubs are particularly welcome and the funding can be used to fund equipment or provide additional facilities.

Fundraising – Fast Parties

The idea behind a Fast Party is not to plough through the buffet at a party as quickly as possible, but to 'fast' - as in abstaining from eating. A Fast Party is actually a non-event, whereby people are invited to a party that isn't going to take place. This type of fundraiser works particularly well with well-known charitable organisations with a strong supporter base either locally or nationally. Guests are asked to go without one meal on a specific date and to contribute the money that would otherwise be spend on the meal to your not-for-profit. The advantage of this fundraising idea is that it:

- Requires very little organising
- Doesn't require a venue
- Has very little financial outlay - all you're paying for is the cost of the invitations (and you could get a sponsor for this in return for a bit of advertising)
- Can be quite easy to obtain sponsorship

Disadvantages are relatively few. The main drawback is that supporters who may already be contributing to the charity or cause may feel 'put upon' by another request for help.

It's also a fundraising idea you should be wary of overusing. It's okay as a witty, fun one-off activity, but at best this should be an annual event and possibly take place even less frequently.

To organise a Fast Party, find a couple or several friends to help write a Guest List and put together an eye-catching, well-designed and witty invitation (for example, 'Mr and Mrs Smith have pleasure in not requesting your company.....' or 'Guests of Honour will not include...").

You could also print an unappetising menu on the back of the invitation to show 'participants' that they've had a lucky escape. Include a vegetarian option.

Print the invitations on good quality card (you guests may want the option of displaying the invitation on their mantelpiece) and include a self-addressed envelope or set up an online payment system so that participants can make their financial contribution easily - or you could just pop round to a supporters' house to collect their donation.

Make sure that cheques are made out to the charity or cause rather than to an individual, which could lead you open to criticism or, worse, accusations of fraud. Tickets to the party could be £5 per person, £8 per couple or £10 per family, whatever you think is appropriate for your supporters.

The advantage for 'participants' is that they don't have to do anything to participate. A Fast Party enables them to show their

|  | support for a cause at a relatively low cost without having to spend much effort, plan, or use up valuable time and effort. In terms of return, most Fast Parties report at least 50% of invitees making a donation. Some may not wish to participate but may still be willing to make a donation. Finally, always send a short thank-you letter, telling donors how the funding will be used and the difference it will make!   |

| Lloyds Bank launches £500 million Growth Fund | Lloyds Banking Group has just opened a £500 million pound loan fund to help British businesses finance equipment. Essentially, this is the same £500 million scheme the bank opened a couple of years ago for the agricultural sector, but now its remit has been widened to include manufacturing, construction and transport. The scheme targets small and medium-sized companies which banks froze out of credit following the financial crisis. The bank said the fund will deliver quick access to finance by allowing companies to spread the cost of assets over their lifetime, enabling big investments that don't eat into working capital. The government sees small and medium-sized companies as key to unlocking higher productivity, which has fallen back to below pre-crisis levels this year, and to the success of the UK economy post-Brexit. These businesses have struggled to invest in the decade since the financial crisis as banks have shied away from lending to smaller businesses. Interested parties can phone either of the Bank's two 24-hour helpline/contact numbers: 0345 300 0000 or 01733 347 007. | The Heritage Mortgage | The Architectural Heritage Fund | http://ahfund.org.uk/the/ Groups are asked to contact a member of the AHF's Investment Team to discuss their project in the first instance. | An interesting new social investment approach from AHF towards the funding of heritage buildings that have been unable to secure grant funding. Heritage Mortgages is a new scheme that offers longer-term social investment available to preserve and restore buildings which are listed or located in conservation areas in the United Kingdom. Loans are available either for the acquisition of a building, or to provide working capital throughout a restoration project. Buildings must be listed, scheduled as an ancient monument or in a Conservation Area. Buildings in Conservation Areas must be of acknowledged historic or architectural significance. Mortgage-style loans of between £150,000 and £500,000 are available, with no penalty for early repayment. The Architectural Heritage Fund can normally lend applicants up to 70% of the estimated open market resale value of any acceptable property or land over which it takes a first charge. If this is the project building for which the loan is required, it can lend up to 70% of the property's estimated "end value" (the projected value once work has been completed). The terms are as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Interest rates are typically fixed at 4-6%, or they can be linked to Base Rate</li> <li>• The arrangement fee is on application</li> <li>• The term of the loan is typically between 10 and 20 years (up to 30 years by exception)</li> </ul> | Applications will be considered four times a year. |

They will run three funding rounds per year for early stage charities and social enterprises. This is a first come grant programme, with the first 400 successfully registered organisations invited to submit a simple application within one month, with funding decisions announced shortly afterwards. Only a small proportion of applicants are successful, although many are linked with pro-bono business support. The funding model asks applicants to identify what they need to move forward and includes a simple application process, feedback and access to tailored pro-bono strategic support. Applicants proceeding to the full application stage needed to demonstrate how the Bulldog Trust's support would create a step change within their organisation or allow them to achieve something they were not able to do before, and this is likely to be part of the eligibility for funding from the Fore Trust. Because only the first 400 to successfully register will progress to the formal application round, and only a small percentage of those will receive funding, it's worth preparing your case for grant support well in advance. | Late March, July and September annually |

| Charity Governance                                      | Charity trustees need to be able to identify the critical issues – the charity's purposes and plans, its solvency, its resilience and quality of governance – and to be able to review these at regular intervals. The Charity Commission has designed these 15 questions to help charity trustees carry out such a review and decide what they need to focus on. The Commission has also included links to guidance that can help trustees access further information on a particular issue.   | https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/charity-trustee-meetings-15-questions-you-should-ask/charity-trustee-meetings-15-questions-you-should-ask |
| Foundation for Social Improvement - Small Charity Index | The Small Charity Index demonstrates the challenges small charities face in securing funding to deliver the vital services they provide for their local communities. In the years post the 2007/08 financial crisis, funds to support local services, especially from Local Authorities (a statutory source) decreased. Small charities, who deliver local services specifically in the areas of health and social welfare, therefore continue to face a challenging commissioning environment. By tracking the experiences in income generation across statutory, voluntary and earned income sources, this report shows how small charities continue to be affected by economic uncertainty, placing pressure on securing funds to remain sustainable in the long term. New fundraising opportunities have emerged, such as social investment and online giving, however these new opportunities are not necessarily appropriate for all charities, and many continue to struggle | http://www.thefsi.org/policyresearch/scindex/   |

Therefore overall, the Small Charity Index paints a picture of income stagnation, at least for the Small Charity Sector. | Food Drop – surplus food              | Food Drop is a new Bath initiative to support the redistribution of surplus food from local high street retailers to local charities. We match food retailers to local charities that can accept surplus food donations at the end of the food retailer’s working day. Volunteers can support local retailers by helping to redistribute surplus food by downloading our app (launching in early October 2017), where they can sign up and filter through the different Food Drop opportunities in their community. Food Drops are designed to be quick (&lt; 40 mins), flexible and easily accessible, making them a perfect fit for those who want to give back to the community or need volunteering experience. | If you want to learn more about Food Drop or are a charity interested in receiving surplus food donations, please email us at info@fooddrop.co.uk https://www.thesubath.com/vteam/fooddrop/ |

This could include : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• assisting you in the planning or delivery of an event</li> <li>• pre-Xmas activity planning eg maybe doing a small amount of fundraising to provide Xmas decorations</li> <li>• collating a collection for you eg food or arts and crafts items or good quality items for a charity shop</li> <li>• organising a simple event like afternoon tea for your client group</li> <li>• using their skills - marketing, strategy and planning, finance - to carry out a piece of work for you or provide training</li> <li>• Helping to raise the profile of your charity</li> </ul> The students involved in this scheme are international and will be put into teams of other students that they have probably not met before. However, your time will be needed to support them as this is a learning experience for these students and things may go wrong but it's how they then deal with these problems that is a key learning curve for them. Your project will be helping them to develop their teamwork, problem solving, communication and leadership skills to name but a few! For an application form, contact Mike Plows at the Volunteer Centre by 31st August 2017. You will need to give as much detail as possible about the challenge and the benefits for you or your client group. | Lloyds Bank launches £500 million Growth Fund | Lloyds Banking Group has opened a £500 million pound loan fund to help British businesses finance equipment. Essentially, this is the same £500 million scheme the bank opened a couple of years ago for the agricultural sector, but now its remit has been widened to include manufacturing, construction and transport. The scheme targets small and medium-sized companies which banks froze out of credit following the financial crisis. The bank said the fund will deliver quick access to finance by allowing companies to spread the cost of assets over their lifetime, enabling big investments that don't eat into working capital.   | Interested parties can phone either of the Bank's two 24-hour helpline/contact numbers: 0345 300 0000 or 01733 347 007. | Research on mental health and social relationships | Mental illness has huge cost implications for society and the NHS in terms of lost work days and healthcare. Research into the health effect of social networks and interaction could inform cost-efficient mental health initiatives and policies. Depression, anxiety and other psychological conditions cost the UK an estimated £77 billion a year. Experts predict that by 2020 depression will be second only to heart disease as an international health problem. Social isolation has long been known as a key trigger for mental illness, while supportive relationships with friends, family and neighbours are beneficial to the mental health of individuals and the population. Other forms of social interaction such as volunteering are also known to boost wellbeing. People with supportive friends and family generally have better mental and physical health than those who lack these networks. The same is true for those who take part in churches, clubs and voluntary organisations. It is only by analysing people's lives over time within a structural, social and cultural context that we can establish whether social relationships really do contribute to better health and increased wellbeing – or whether better health and more energy in the first place enable people to invest in relationships with family and friends. Researchers at the ESRC-funded International Centre for Lifecourse Studies In Society and Health have examined how social networks have a | http://www.esrc.ac.uk/news-events-and-publications/evidence-briefings/mental-health-and-social-relationships/ |

Attachment theory suggests that people with secure childhoods may be better at relationships of any kind – for instance making friends at school and work, or getting on well with neighbours. This theory can only be tested by looking at information over the span of a person’s life, preferably from birth to old age. For further information and key findings, see the website to the right.  |  |
| Fundraising Advice– Hold a Fast Party | The idea behind a Fast Party is not to plough through the buffet at a party as quickly as possible, but to 'fast' - as in abstaining from eating. A Fast Party is actually a non-event, whereby people are invited to a party that isn't going to take place. This type of fundraiser works particularly well with well-known charitable organisations with a strong supporter base either locally or nationally. Guests are asked to go without one meal on a specific date and to contribute the money that would otherwise be spend on the meal to your not-for-profit. The advantage of this fundraising idea is that it: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Requires very little organising</li> <li>• Doesn't require a venue</li> <li>• Has very little financial outlay - all you're paying for is the cost of the invitations (and you could get a sponsor for this in return for a bit of advertising)</li> <li>• Can be quite easy to obtain sponsorship.</li> </ul> Disadvantages are relatively few. The main drawback is that supporters who may already be contributing to the charity or cause may feel 'put upon' by another request for help. It's also a fundraising idea you should be wary of overusing. It's okay as a witty, fun one-off activity, but at best this should be an annual event and possibly take place even less frequently. To organise a Fast Party, find a couple or several friends to help write a |  |

|                                | Guest List and put together an eye-catching, well-designed and witty invitation (for example, 'Mr and Mrs Smith have pleasure in not requesting your company.....' or 'Guests of Honour will not include..."). You could also print an unappetising menu on the back of the invitation to show 'participants' that they've had a lucky escape. Include a vegetarian option. Print the invitations on good quality card (you guests may want the option of displaying the invitation on their mantlepiece) and include a self-addressed envelope or set up an online payment system so that participants can make their financial contribution easily - or you could just pop round to a supporters' house to collect their donation. Make sure that cheques are made out to the charity or cause rather than to an individual, which could lead you open to criticism or, worse, accusations of fraud. Tickets to the party could be £5 per person, £8 per couple or £10 per family, whatever you think is appropriate for your supporters. The advantage for 'participants' is that they don't have to do anything to participate. A Fast Party enables them to show their support for a cause at a relatively low cost without having to spend much effort, plan, or use up valuable time and effort. In terms of return, most Fast Parties report at least 50% of invitees making a donation. Some may not wish to participate but may still be willing to make a donation. Finally, always send a short thank-you letter, telling donors how the funding will be used and the difference it will make! |   |

| Fundraising – Auctions of Promises | Auctions of Promises tend to be most successful when held on the back of another event when equipment and furniture is already available. A good Auction of Promises ( 50 lots takes about an hour to get through if you have a good auctioneer) can often raise £1,000 or more. An Auction of Promises is held on identical lines to a conventional auction, but the 'lots' are quite different. Each lot is a 'Promise', usually written on individual slips of paper and signed and dated by the person offering the promise. Promises are secured by asking around your contacts, private companies or prominent individuals in the community, such as the Mayor or your local MP. It's a good idea to have a wide selection of lots, for example, handmade goods, offers of help, vouchers, special opportunities and donated items. Example of promises can include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Theatre tickets</li> <li>• Having your car(s) cleaned</li> <li>• A free round of golf</li> <li>• A week's holiday in a country cottage or an apartment overseas</li> <li>• A free meal at a local restaurant</li> </ul> To organise an Auction of Promises, follow these steps: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Get together a small group of helpers or form a committee;</li> <li>2. Decide on a date and a venue and apply for an occasional licence if you intend to run a bar, which could usefully increase the amount of funding raised;</li> <li>3. Find an auctioneer who will ideally volunteer their time. If you can get one, a professional auctioneer will bring a sense of authenticity as well as</li> </ol> |  |

ensuring the auction moves along at a brisk pace. If someone other than an experienced auctioneer wants to do it. it's essential they have a presence;

4. Proactively seek donations and promises. Make sure you get specific commitments from people or companies. Type up the promises and get them signed before the donor can pull out! Make it clear the offer is available for a limited period only, for instance 6 months or a year.

5. Prepare a catalogue showing images and the running order of all the lots which can be shown online or handed out at the event. It can help if you publish a reserve price for each lot to give participants an idea of where to begin bidding.

To keep things interesting:

Include a Surprise Auction: keep 2-3 popular lots in unmarked envelopes. Announce that the next lot is one of the unmarked promises, but bidders won't know which one it is. Participants make 'blind bids' and the successful bidder receives a surprise (it's important not to announce the lots until all have been auctioned).

Include a Sealed Bid Auction: this is where you display the lots and make pens, papers and envelopes available. Bidders place their bids in sealed envelopes and place them in a box. The winners are announced at the end of the Promises Auction. It's worth bearing in mind that Sealed Bid Auctions don't generally raise as much funding.

At the end of the Auction, try to encourage all successful bidders to pay before they leave. Thank the auctioneer with a bottle of wine and flowers. Make sure you have sufficient volunteers to clear up. After the event, thank your donors, volunteers and successful bidders and let them know how much has been raised and how the funds will be used.

|  | Ensure the Auction is reported in the local and social media (this can also be done in real-time during the event), together with the amount raised. An Auction of Promises is a great PR opportunity because you can gain additional publicity as people redeem their promises throughout the 6 months or year. Finally, think about making it an annual event to develop your commercial and public supporter base!   |  |

| Crowdfunding - Spacehive | Spacehive is a crowd-funding platform which provides a single portal where people with project ideas can build support from their local community, ensure their plans are viable, pitch for funding from the crowd and partners at the same time, and share the impact they've created. When organisations create a project on Spacehive they're automatically matched with all of the funds that match the same criteria. For example, a Community Garden project will get matched to a Green Space fund in the same way a playground in Manchester will get matched to Manchester funds. You can get your project matched, pitch your project to funds and attract additional support from partners to help bring your project to life. Currently, a number of funds are available to support community projects, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The Better Communities Fund - to support projects which get your community active! From organising a 100 metre sprint on your high street to revamping a 5-a-side football pitch</li> <li>• Esmee Fairbairn Community Fund - for projects that bring communities together and have a lasting impact</li> <li>• The Growing a Greener Britain Fund - for creative and innovative ideas that enhance greenery across the country, like building a park on a disused rail line in the sky, creating a community garden, or installing a wifi network in a park, whatever you think will make your local greenspace an even better place to be</li> <li>• The UnLtd Spaces for Change Fund - to empower young people to improve unused or under used spaces within their communities</li> </ul> | https://www.spacehive.com/  |

They would like to support small charities and community groups to raise much needed funds for their work and on-going sustainability. Last year, they raised over £300,000 for groups. They do not charge for their service until the money they apply for has been received by the group they are supporting. All they ask in return is that the group pays 15% of the total raised. If they are unsuccessful in obtaining funding, they do not ask for any payment. They are also able to construct the evaluation and monitoring of the use of the monies on a group's behalf.  | For further information contact Heather Harrington-James by e-mail to hhjconsultancy@outlook.com |

| Study into what encourages people to give to charity and what puts people off (and other reports) | NFP Synergy released two reports recently looking at what encourages people to give to charity and what puts people off from giving. The top four factors that encourage people to give are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The charity is clear about what donations are spent on (56%);</li> <li>• Learning about the impact which the charity has (47%);</li> <li>• Positive stories about the charity in the media (37%);</li> <li>• Case stories/stories about individuals that have been helped (33%).</li> </ul> Different age groups tend to be motivated by different factors, so those over 55 years old are more likely to want the charity to be clear about what its donations are spent on, as well wanting more information about impact. In contrast people under the age of 35 want case stories much more than older groups (40%+ for the under 35s vs around 30% for the other age groups), as well as fundraising events to take part in, thank you's, celebrity endorsements, and volunteering opportunities. All age groups want good stories in the media, and a strong media presence. Donors like to see great case studies and human stories - a clear mix of the information that motivates and inspires, and information that convinces them their donation isn't being wasted. More interesting perhaps is how young people want more than other age groups: they wanted to be engaged as a whole supporter: to give and to volunteer, to take part and be thanked. WHAT PUTS PEOPLE OFF? The most significant factor that puts people off from giving to charity is the | https://nfpsynergy.net/free-reports-and-presentations |

However fundraising is not the main barrier to people giving. This remains 'too little money actually going to the cause' at 54%. The second highest factor that puts people off from giving is 'too much money spent on staff salaries' at 43%. The reports, along with many other useful resources, are available on NFP's website under the 'Free Resources' tab.  |  |
| Cyber Attacks    | The Charity Commission is urging charities to be 'vigilant' in protecting their organisation from ransomware attacks and to follow protection advice recently issued by the National Cyber Security Centre. For £5, audiences get a bowl of fresh, locally made soup, bread and sometimes a small slice of cake and music from local acts. The centrepiece of the night is pitches from local community groups, each getting five minutes to tell people about projects that need funding followed by a quick question and answer. The audience then votes for the one they like best, and the winner gets the pot of donations taken on the door. Successful soup nights often receive support from local businesses which provide in-kind support with soup/bread/cake making. It is not unusual for businesses attending soups to offer those pitching in-kind support, equipment etc whether they win the pot or not. | Volunteer Centre and Midsomer Norton held its first soup in March 2017. Edinburgh Soup is very happy to provide advice on how to start a Soup Night. taxed on. Charities can therefore reclaim the equivalent of the basic rate of tax, increasing the value of the donation made. For every £1 donated, the charity can claim an extra 25p, so each £1 can become £1.25 for the cause.

There are special rules for:

- Funds from sponsored challenges (for example: overseas treks or marathons);
- Charity membership fees;
- Church collections;
- Selling goods on behalf of individuals (for example through a charity shop);
- Charity events or to view charity property;
- Charity auctions;
- Volunteer expenses donated back to a charity or CASC; and
- Funds raised through charities involved in running schools

For your contribution to qualify for Gift Aid, you must pay enough UK tax to cover the amount the charity will reclaim. You'll also need to make a Gift Aid declaration if you want the organisation to make the claim, and many charities will include this on their donation forms.

The giver must confirm that this is a Gift Aid donation and that they have paid enough UK tax to cover the reclaimed amount.

You can make a declaration that covers an individual donation, contributions made during the previous six years and all future gifts to an organisation.

If you pay more than the basic rate of tax you can benefit from your donation as well.

|   | Donors paying 40 per cent tax can claim back the remaining tax for themselves by requesting a P810 Tax Review, or adding it to a Self Assessment tax return.  |  |
