Fairbairn Foundation

The Esmee Fairbairn Foundation's Youth-Led Creativity programme, which has a budget of £1 million in 2024, builds on young people's power to make change, use creativity to enhance their lives, develop their careers, and influence the world around them.

The Foundation is focusing its support on work led by and for young people who have less access to creative programmes or who are underrepresented in the arts and culture. This includes young people who:

- Are D/deaf, disabled or neuro-divergent.
- Are from communities experiencing racial inequity.
- Are economically or educationally disadvantaged.

- · Have migration or care experience.

The programme has been co-designed with the Foundation's Involving Young People Collective. A panel of young consultants will play a key role in the assessment process for the Fund. This is to ensure the views and voices of young people are at the heart of the programme.

The Foundation held a Question-and-Answer session on the Fund in early February. A recording of the session is available on YouTube.

Revenue grants (the Fund does not support capital projects) of up to £120,000 are available for project or core costs. Grants can be awarded for either a single year or for up to 3 years (grants around the maximum level of £120,000 are likely to be awarded for 3 years rather than for 1 or 2 years). The Foundation expects to award around 10 grants from the programme during 2024. Applications from two or more organisations working collaboratively are encouraged.

Organisations that meet the following criteria may apply for a grant:

- Are driven and shaped by young people so they can build their confidence and skills. Most of the young people supported need to be aged 14 to 30.
- Are driving change for the future either by doing something new, or by using tried and tested models to push things forward.
- Prioritise the joy and care of young people.
- Understand and can demonstrate a track record of centring the voices of young people from communities underrepresented in arts and culture. This includes young people who are D/deaf, disabled or neuro-divergent, are from communities experiencing racial inequity, are economically disadvantaged, identify as LGBT+, have migration and/or care experience, and
- Use art and creativity as a tool for young people to use their voice and influence to advocate for change in their own lives and the world around them.

To apply, eligible organisations should:

- Submit an online Expression of Interest by 5pm on Friday 15 March 2024.
- Applicants successful at the Expression of Interest stage will be invited to submit a Full Application and discuss their project proposal with a representative of the Foundation.

The aim of Comic Relief's Re-Rooted Safety and Security for Refugees and Asylum Seekers grant programme is to help organisations address the challenges faced by the migration sector, and support refugees and asylum seekers to safely and securely rebuild their lives in the UK. There is a 3-stage application process for the programme.

Arts and Mental Health Grants Programme – The Baring Foundation

Grants of between £20,000 and £50,000 are available for projects across the UK that promote creativity among men from ethnically diverse backgrounds who have a mental health issue.

The Baring Foundation has reopened its Arts and Mental Health Programme, this time with a specific focus on projects that promote creativity among men from ethnically diverse backgrounds who have a mental health issue.

The Arts and Mental Health Grants Programme is intended to provide funding for Global Majority-led arts organisations to develop creative work with people faced with mental health issues and challenges. The term 'Global Majority' normally refers to people who are Black, African, Asian, Brown, dual-heritage, indigenous to the global south, and/or have been racialised as 'ethnic minorities'. For the purposes of the Baring Foundation's Arts and Mental Health Grants Programme, 'Global Majority' means communities that experience racism in the UK, including Gypsy, Roma and Traveller communities.

Grants should be used to provide participatory creative activities for men living with mental health issues, mostly from Global Majority communities. It is also hoped that the Fund will help address the under-representation of artists from ethnically diverse backgrounds working in arts and mental health.

The Foundation is particularly looking to fund projects which provide new and attractive creative opportunities for men who are not already taking part, and target those men who are least likely otherwise to take part.

Please note that, while the lead applicant should ideally be a Global Majority-led arts organisation, applications from partnerships, including, for example, non-Global Majority-led agencies that focuses on challenges caused by poor mental health are also welcomed. By the term 'arts organisation', the Foundation means an organisation whose primary purpose is around the arts and creativity broadly defined. Applicants working in partnership with relevant community groups and sharing resources are encouraged to apply.

Grants of between £20,000 and £50,000 are available to arts organisations in the UK for either of the following approaches, or a combination of the two:

- Work which finds ways to achieve equal representation (or a significant increase) of men in mixed gender creative activities, and/or
- Men-only creative activities.

Projects should take place over at least a 12-month period. Projects that take place over 2 two or more years are likely to be prioritised.

Applicants must be:

- An established arts organisation of any kind (including museums).
 This could be a charity or a regulated social enterprise, such as a Community Interest Company. In this case, 'arts organisation' means an organisation whose primary purpose is around the arts and creativity broadly defined. Applicants working in partnership with relevant community groups and sharing resources are encouraged to apply.
- Arts organisations that are Global Majority-led (see definition above).
 For the purposes of the Fund, 'global majority' means communities that experience racism in the UK, including Gypsy, Roma and Traveller communities, and
- Arts organisations that have been established for at least 2 years with audited accounts for a minimum 2-year period showing an annual turnover of at least £75,000 per annum.

Further information, guidance and details about how to apply can be found on the Baring Foundation website.

among men from ethnically diverse backgrounds who have a mental health issue.

The Arts and Mental Health Grants Programme is intended to provide funding for Global Majority-led arts organisations to develop creative work with people faced with mental health issues and challenges. The term 'Global Majority' normally refers to people who are Black, African, Asian, Brown, dual-heritage, indigenous to the global south, and/or have been racialised as 'ethnic minorities'. For the purposes of the Baring Foundation's Arts and Mental Health Grants Programme, 'Global Majority' means communities that experience racism in the UK, including Gypsy, Roma and Traveller communities.

Grants should be used to provide participatory creative activities for men living with mental health issues, mostly from Global Majority communities. It is also hoped that the Fund will help address the under-representation of artists from ethnically diverse backgrounds working in arts and mental health.

The Foundation is particularly looking to fund projects which provide new and attractive creative opportunities for men who are not already taking part, and target those men who are least likely otherwise to take part.

Please note that, while the lead applicant should ideally be a Global Majority-led arts organisation, applications from partnerships, including, for example, non-Global Majority-led agencies that focuses on challenges caused by poor mental health are also welcomed. By the term 'arts organisation', the Foundation means an organisation whose primary purpose is around the arts and creativity broadly defined. Applicants working in partnership with relevant community groups and sharing resources are encouraged to apply.

Grants of between £20,000 and £50,000 are available to arts organisations in the UK for either of the following approaches, or a combination of the two:

- Work which finds ways to achieve equal representation (or a significant increase) of men in mixed gender creative activities, and/or
- Men-only creative activities.

Projects should take place over at least a 12-month period. Projects that take place over 2 two or more years are likely to be prioritised.

Applicants must be:

 An established arts organisation of any kind (including museums). This could be a charity or a regulated social enterprise, such as a Community Interest Company. In this case, 'arts organisation' means an organisation whose primary purpose is around the arts and creativity broadly defined. Applicants working in partnership with relevant community groups and sharing resources are encouraged to apply. Arts organisations that are Global Majorityled (see definition above). For the purposes of the Fund, 'global majority' means communities that experience racism in the UK, including Gypsy, Roma and Traveller communities, and Arts organisations that have been established for at least 2 years with audited accounts for a minimum 2-year period showing an annual turnover of at least £75,000 per annum. Further information, guidance and details about how to apply can be found on the Baring Foundation website.

For organisations interested in applying, the Foundation has scheduled Information Sessions via Zoom – the remaining date is Tuesday 19 March 2024 from 2pm to 3:15pm.

to support asylum seekers, refugees and penal affairs in the UK and/or overseas.

The Hilden Charitable Fund has recently reopened to applications with a renewed focus. Previously, the charity supported UK charitable organisations working in the fields of:

- Asylum Seekers and Refugees.
- Community Based Initiatives for Disadvantaged Young People Aged 16 to 25.
- Homelessness.
- Penal Affairs, and
- Overseas development, particularly where it benefits women and girls through community development, education and health initiatives (the Hilden Charitable Fund's website has a separate section for overseas applications).

The Fund now offers grants in the following 2 areas:

Asylum Seekers and Refugees

The charity states that "Asylum Seekers and Refugees continue to face hostility, challenge and isolation which prevents them being able to fully integrate into society; while some face considerable levels of poverty due to being unable to work or use their skills. We want to support organisations and projects which provide essential services; which help meet their needs; and which support their integration within the wider community".

Penal Affairs

Under this category the charity's website comments that "Whilst custodial sentences are often very damaging for all of those affected, research by the Prison Reform Trust shows that women are often more greatly impacted, especially where they have children or other caring responsibilities. During the Pandemic, for example, family visits to prisons were curtailed and many children did not see their parent for over a year. We want to support work "through the door" where organisations go into prisons with projects and support to help prisoners (especially women) cope and/or maintain family bonds and to be better able to resettle positively when released. Equally we welcome applications for post-release projects which support positive resettlement and a reduction in the likelihood of reoffending".

Applicants must meet the following criteria in order to apply for grant support:

- Be able to demonstrate that they have a UK charitable purpose.
- Have adequate insurance and safeguarding policies and procedures for their service users, volunteers and employees, including Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) screening if necessary.

| See text | The Caron Keating Foundation | http://www.caronkeating .org/ | Grants, generally for between £2,000 and £5,000, are available to small UK cancer charities that are supporting people living with all forms of cancer across the UK. The Caron Keating Foundation was established by a charitable trust deed on 3 October 2004 in | Applications may be made at any time and are reviewed annually by the Foundation. | memory of the broadcaster and TV presenter Caron Keating (1962-2004) who passed away after a 7 year battle with cancer, on 13 April 2004. The family of Caron established a Foundation in her name with the aim of helping many different cancer charities across the UK, not just breast cancer charities, as Caron had wanted to reach out to other cancer sufferers and families. The Foundation has two trustees, Caron's mother, the TV and radio presenter, Gloria Hunniford, and Caron's husband, Michael Keating. The Foundation's medical consultant is the GP, presenter and writer, Dr Hilary Jones.

The Foundation's aim is to assist all forms of cancer charities across the UK. Over the last 17 years its grants have achieved a wide geographical spread. This is a planned approach by the Foundation, designed to reach as many parts of the UK as possible.

The Foundation's objectives are to:

- Promote research into the causes and treatment of cancer (in particular breast cancer).
- Protect and preserve the health of cancer patients by offering financial support to other cancer charities, complimentary health practitioners, support groups working with cancer patients and to such other groups or persons supporting those suffering from cancer (in particular breast cancer).

- Relieve those persons with cancer (in particular but not exclusively those suffering from breast cancer), their families and carers, and
- Support the dependents of cancer patients or those that have lost their life to cancer (in particular breast cancer).

Grants are nominally available for up to £25,000, although the vast majority of the Foundation's awards are for between £2,000 and £5,000. UK registered charities with an annual income of under £1 million may apply. There is no specific requirement for matched funding.

Grants can be used for such things as (please note that this is not an exclusive list):

- Complementary therapies to help with pain control.
- Different types of hospice care, both at home and in the Hospice itself.
- Drivers to take cancer patients to and from treatment centres.
- Equipment to aid cancer detection.
- Providing counselling services, including bereavement counselling, and
- Providing specialist beds and chairs to give physical relief.

Please note that funding is not available for large building projects

| | | | £300,000. The Foundation awards across the UK, with a preference for supporting initiatives in areas of deprivation. | |
| | | | The Foundation will fund organisations which are registered charities and also other organisations which are not charities but which seek funding for charitable work in the following areas: | |
| | | | To support and promote causes that are ignored, unpopular or face widespread stigma. Create stronger local communities that include those who have previously been excluded or marginalised, and Improve skills, infrastructure, sustainability and collaboration within the third sector. | |
| | | | In particular, the Foundation wants to support those organisations and causes that are unpopular or do not receive widespread public attention. This could be due to negative focus within the media; due to difficulty in accessing statutory, voluntary and institutional funding; due to the cause being seen as politically | |
| | | | controversial; or because the issue is not typically seen as a charitable cause. Examples | | of these types of causes or groups may be (please note that this is not an exclusive list):

- Asylum seekers and refugees.
- Dependency or Addiction.
- LGBT+.
- · Migrant communities.
- · Offenders and ex-offenders.
- People experiencing violence or abuse.
- Sexual and reproductive health.
- Sex workers, and/or
- Trafficking and modern slavery.

The Foundation recognises that unpopularity can be very subjective and the above list is not exclusive. For example, mental health has become a much more popularised and publicised cause in recent years, but there may be a lack of progress in improving mental health support within the examples of the marginalised groups listed above.

The Foundation encourages anyone who believes their cause meets these criteria to apply and explain why you believe it does.

Projects that can deliver long-term impact and improvement, and are sustainable beyond the Foundation's grant support are encouraged, as are applications from organisations that work together and can demonstrate how their work improves collaboration across the sector. The Foundation wants to improve the skills in charitable organisations and are open to funding

| | | | training and development opportunities within an organisation. Applicants are encouraged to be open and transparent about the costs of what they are looking to fund and understand the need to fund 'overheads', 'core costs' or 'administrative costs' where they improve the sustainability and long-term success of an organisation. Further information, guidance and details about how to apply is available on the Foundation's website. Applications should be made in writing following the advice of the Foundation's website. The Foundation accepts applications throughout the year. Applications that miss a deadline are automatically carried forward to the next funding round. | See text | The Andrew Wainwright Reform Trust | https://www.wainwrighttr usts.org.uk/awrt.html | Grants of between £1,500 and £10,000 are available to UK organisations and (occasionally) individuals who do not qualify for charitable funding because they may be viewed as too radical or political. The Trust supports campaigns to create a more just and democratic society and to redress political and social injustices. | Stage 1 registrations forms must be submitted by 14 January, 14 May or 14 September annually. |
| | | | The objectives of the family-based Andrew Wainwright Reform Trust are to work for a just and democratic society and to redress political and social injustices. Although the Trust has a wide-ranging remit for reform, it will prioritise organisations that are ineligible for charitable funding because they are considered too political or radical to come within the Charity Commission's guidelines. The Trust's approach is similar to that of the Joseph Rowntree Reform Trust, with which it maintains informal links. The Trust also has close ties to the Scurrah Wainwright Charity. | |

The Trust will support work undertaken at both regional and national level and may also consider pioneering projects operating on a more local basis that have a potentially wider impact.

The Trust normally gives grants only to groups or organisations, but in very exceptional cases it may consider an application from an individual with proven experience or skill in their chosen field, or it may make a personal award to an individual in support of outstanding commitment and effectiveness relevant to the Trust's interests.

As a general rule, the Trust provides either specific project funding or start up grants for a limited period to enable campaigns to get off the ground and attract alternative sources of finance.

The Trust's annual grant budge is normally between £90,000 and £110,000, from which it usually awards grants of between £1,500 and £10,000, with the occasional higher award.

The Trust rarely supports organisations with an annual income and expenditure of over £250,000.

The Trust meet three times a year - in March, July and November.

"Please note we do not support projects or organisations where the main focus is health, therapy or social welfare; nor do we contribute towards the costs of construction, fit-out or repairs of arts venues. "We are particularly keen to help small-tomedium-sized organisations, although large charities are not excluded from applying. Most | | | | of our current grants support projects run by registered charities, but in exceptional circumstances, we will consider applications from established community groups as long as they have clear charitable aims. We award one-off grants and also consider multi-year funding. | Open grants programme | The Rayne Foundation | https://www.raynefound ation.org.uk/grants/uk/a pply/guidelines | Multi-year revenue grants up to 3 years and normally between £10,000 and £20,000 are available to UK registered charities and not-for-profit organisations. The Rayne Foundation announced that, from 1 February 2023, its Open Grants programme will be focused exclusively on the following four areas of special interest: • Arts as a tool to achieve social change • Better opportunities for refugees and asylum seekers • Improved quality of life for carers and for older people, and • Young people's improved mental health This more focused approach is the first step in the Foundation working towards becoming an | Ongoing | increasingly pro-active and engaged funder and reflects its desire to think more carefully and have greater impact on a smaller number of issues over a longer period.

The Foundation is particularly looking for good ideas that other people can learn from, creative ways of tackling entrenched or new problems, and ideas which have potential to be replicable. As a result, it is more likely to fund projects that are untried or in their early-to-mid stages of development than established, long-running services.

Grants, which are available for revenue costs and offered over 1, 2 or 3 years, are normally for between £10,000 and £20,000. Grants are specifically for salaries and project costs, and can include a reasonable contribution to overheads or on-costs. Core costs can also be considered by the Foundation. However, it only tends to make a contribution towards core or running costs when an organisation is making a step-change in the way in which it works or tackles a particular issue and where a core grant will provide greater flexibility during the transition period.

Please note that the Foundation rarely funds 100% of a project's costs and will expect applicants to make a matched funding contribution. The Foundation will also consider the size of the request relative to the applicant organisation's overall turnover. Small, newer organisations in particular are unlikely to receive a larger grant if it equates to more than 10% of their total income, unless it is towards an organisation's first paid post.

The Foundation's focus is on supporting locally-based front-line organisations. Larger, national organisations or 'household-name charities' are unlikely to receive a grant unless they are the only organisation in a position to tackle a particular problem.

In addition, organisations with more than 9 months' running costs in unrestricted reserves are less likely to receive a grant. Organisations with very small reserves or an overall deficit will need to convince the Foundation that their organisation is viable and they are taking action to increase reserves.

All applicants are required to:

- Demonstrate an awareness of what is going on in their field nationally, how their work complements what else is available, and why they are best placed to deliver the proposed activity.
- Demonstrate a strong leadership, management and track record.
- Have real expertise and sector knowledge and a good understanding of the needs of their client groups and how to support people to bring about change, and

| | | | Show commitment to demonstrating results and sharing learning (for example, be able to explain why they believe their activities will lead to positive change for users and how they will gather evidence to demonstrate this). | |

In general, applicants are expected to evidence that they have a proven track record of successful work in their field of operation or, in the case of newer charities, convincing evidence of ability. Applications from smaller charities are prioritised for funding. Grants are normally up to £30,000. However, the majority of grant awards tend to be between £5.000 and £20.000. The Trust's annual report comments that (page 4) "the chances of success were high with a roughly 50% chance of success which is mainly a result of the reduced number of applicants. By far the most common reason for applications failing was because the charity had what we considered were excess reserves, particularly where they were applying for an unrestricted donation to help with core costs. There were a few that failed because they sent in mail-shots or had made little effort to follow our guidelines".

- Journal digitisation

To apply, applicants are required to provide a brief project outline. If the Fund is interested in taking the project proposal further, it will issue an application form together with details about how to make an application.

| See text | The Pickwell Foundation | https://www.thepickwellf oundation.org.uk/ | The Foundation generally makes small grants - by invitation only - to charitable organisations working in the area of Climate Change and Displaced People. Its funds are evenly distributed to organisations in the South West of England, the United Kingdofamily m and internationally. The Pickwell Foundation is an interesting grant-making charity operating out of Braunton, North Devon. The Foundation has 4 trustees, consisting of two members each from two families. It takes a relational approach to grant-making and seeks to build longer-term funding relationships and partnerships. Grants are often awarded over a 3-year period and can include contributions towards core costs or unrestricted funds where appropriate. | Ongoing |

However, the Foundation does not accept unsolicited applications and prefers to offer invitations to charitable organisations to apply for support. If you believe your organisation represents a strong match against the Foundation's values and objectives, a letter of introduction is probably the best approach to take in the first instance.

The Foundation aims to direct a third of its support to organisations working in the South West of England, a third to those working nationally and a third internationally.

The Foundation's priorities for grant support are:

- Climate Change its funding is aimed at both climate change mitigation and adaptation. To try to mitigate climate change it supports projects that help transition to a lower carbon future, as well as those campaigning for legislative change.
- Displaced People the Foundation's support in this area is wide-ranging and includes projects working both with people who have been displaced and those at risk of displacement.

The Foundation also works locally in Devon to provide support to refugees and asylum seekers through a number of schemes (these are listed on its website), and offers the use of Pickwell Manor as a residential resource for some of the charities

| | | | it supports for such things as team retreats, strategy weekends, trustee residential time, volunteer training, as well as for the bi-annual social enterprise training course that it hosts and jointly run. Further information about the Foundation is available on its website. | |

as part of its new strategy for the period 2023-30, 'It Starts with Community.' The UK Fund is looking to fund organisations that want to do more to help communities come together and help create a better-connected society.

Projects must either work across the UK, or be able to inform, influence or scale up across the UK. The National Lottery wants to support ambitious projects that aim to create longer-term, transformational change. It will take an equity-based approach to tackle inequality. This means funding will be directed to areas where the greatest need can be evidenced. A blog explaining more about the UK Fund and giving some examples of the type of project that could be supported is available on the NLCF website (registration is required before the blog can be accessed).

Funding is available for projects that:

- Create connections between online and offline communities.
- Help make sure people from all backgrounds can shape the future of their communities, and
- Strengthen relationships between people whose experiences of life have not been the same. For example, relationships between people of different ethnic backgrounds, generations, occupations or geographies.

Revenue grants of between £500,000 and £5 million are available over 2-5 years (and in | | | | exceptional circumstances up to 10 years) to not- for-profit organisations for projects that have a UK-wide reach and the ability to create better connected communities. Up to 20 projects are expected to be funded. Partnership proposals are welcomed. Grants can be used for: Capital costs (although applicants should note that this is mainly a revenue grant scheme). Costs associated with delivering the project in other languages. Development work (testing new ways of working, staff training and development, developing governance, tech or IT upgrades and purchases, sharing learning). Equipment. Monitoring, Evaluation and Learning. Staff costs, including sessional workers. Transport. Utilities and running costs, and Volunteer expenses. There is currently no closing date; applications will be assessed on an ongoing basis. Further information about the UK Fund is available on the National Lottery Community Fund website. | |

| See text | BBC Children in Need | https://www.bbcchildreninneed.co.uk/ | Following a year-long suspension of its grant programmes, BBC Children in Need, a major grant-provider for organisations working with vulnerable children and young people aged 18 and under, has announced a new strategy that will see it start funding charities' core organisational costs. As well as this new funding stream, under the strategy, BBC Children in Need will continue funding project costs. Additionally, from Spring 2023, Children in Need will also provide Emerging Grants for new organisations or ideas. The following grant schemes are now open to application: | Ongoing |

- Core Grants Funding Stream towards an organisation's central operational and running costs, and
- Project Grants Funding Stream to support the aims and delivery of a specific piece of work.

Children in Need is currently retendering its Emergency Essentials programme for delivery to commence from June 2023. Emergency Essentials provides funding for items that meet a child's most basic needs.

The Children in Need Grant-making Strategy 2022 - 2025 focuses on the principles of:

- Acting flexibly.
- Building partnerships to bring communities and investors together.
- Sharing power with children and young people, and
- Using its voice to build awareness and empathy around issues.

Core Grants can support organisations for up to 3 years. The maximum grant is £120,000 (or up to £40,000 over 3 years), although the majority of grants are for much less than this. Charities are able to spend its core organisational costs funding flexibly on their central running and operational costs. This might include management and administration, general office costs, accountancy and audit, fundraising, and governance/compliance costs.

The Project Grants Stream supports the aims and delivery of a specific piece of work. This work will usually be time-limited, and based on a defined set of activities. As with the Core Grants scheme, Project Grants can support organisations for up to 3 years. The maximum grant is £120,000 (or up to £40,000 over 3 years), although most awards will be for much less than this.

Details of the new Emerging Grants Funding stream are yet to be announced, but these are expected to focus on building and diversifying the range of organisations and work that BBC Children in Need supports. This will see it target newer organisations and groups that are underrepresented in its portfolio of grantees, and that it may not have funded before. Funding will support emerging organisations, ideas, projects and approaches for work with children and young people, and could be to help on an emerging issue, a new area of focus/audience, or a way of doing things differently. The funding stream will also permit project, core costs or a combination of both. Children in Need has stated that more information will be released in due course.

Applications to the Core Grants and Project Grant programmes may be made at any time and are reviewed on an ongoing basis.

- Improve the public's understanding of IT and its capabilities, and
- Improve the quality of life for those who are disadvantaged, disabled or socially excluded.

All eligible projects must make use of IT. The Charity is more likely to prioritise projects which:

- Are sustainable and focus on outcomes which can be formally reported on.
- Can be developed into a model for wider replication, and
- Demonstrate an innovative use of Information Technology.

In general, the Charity will provide grants of up to £15,000 (an increase from £10,000 in previous years). However, grants can be for more than £15,000 and the Charity has stated in its most recent annual report that it aims to be more strategic by making fewer, larger grants with measurable impact.

Eligible organisations may also apply to the Charity for independent strategic-level pro-bono assistance for their IT projects.

| | | | Applications may be submitted any time throughout the year and are captured in a series of deadlines (or cut-off points). The Charity usually operates 4 deadlines each year. Decisions are usually relayed to applicants up to 2 months after each application deadline. | |

| See Text | The Pixel Fund | https://www.pixelfund.or g.uk/#home-section | Project grants of between £2,500 and £5,000 are available for UK-based registered charities and Charitable Incorporated Organisations (CIOs) for projects that promote the mental health and wellbeing of children and young adults aged 25 and under. Historically, the Fund gave grants to support research and care in the fields of psychological, mental and neurological diseases and disorders. In 2018 the Trust narrowed its focus to concentrate on improving the mental health and mental wellbeing of children, young people and young adults, and has retained this focus for the last 5-6 years. The Trust defines young adults as those aged under 25 years old at the start of any granted project or work stream. Where a project includes over 25s, the Fund will consider granting an appropriate percentage of the total costs. | Ongoing |

The Trust actively researches suitable charities that would benefit from grants and also receive numerous unsolicited enquiries from potential beneficiaries. They also consider requests for follow-on grants from charities that have been supported by the Pixel Fund previously. It is not, however, the Pixel Fund's policy to make multi-year commitments. The Pixel Fund actively encourages applications from charities it hasn't previously funded.

Grants of between £2,500 and £5,000 are generally available for specific projects that will provide a measurable difference to the applicant organisation's users and beneficiaries. The Trust will prioritise charities with an annual income of between £50,000 and £2 million.

Grants are for specific projects rather than for core operational costs

The Fund operates a 4-stage, paperless application process, consisting of:

- All potential applicants, are advised to complete the Eligibility Checklist.
- Eligible organisations should contact the Pixel Fund with a brief outline of the organisation and why they need funding. All initial enquiries must be submitted via the web contact form at the Pixel Fund website.
- Organisations will then be emailed with a request to fill out a due diligence form.

| | | | Successful organisations will then be invited to completed an online application form. Please bear in mind that when considering making an application, it can take 16-20 weeks to complete the application process outlined above. | |

| | | | The Bishop Radford Trust is a charity which | |
| | | | supports Christian ministry in the UK and | |
| | | | internationally. It works with a range of different | |
| | | | charities and has given out over 550 grants | |
| | | | amounting to more than £8 million since it was | |
| | | | founded in 2006. | |
| | | | While matched funding isn't essential, the Trust is | |
| | | | more likely to favour applicants that have sought | |
| | | | and secured funding from other sources prior to | |
| | | | applying, particularly if they can evidence that at | |
| | | | least 50% of the total project cost is covered by | |
| | | | matched funding. | |
| | | | The Trust will take the following factors into | |
| | | | account when reviewing request for grant | |
| | | | support. | |
| | | | | |
| | | | For work within the UK, the Foundation tends | |
| | | | to give to smaller charities where the | |
| | | | contribution makes a significant difference. | |
| | | | For work based overseas, the Foundation tonds to give through larger, more established. | |
| | | | tends to give through larger, more established Christian UK registered charities, or through | |
| | | | charities where they have a personal | |
| | | | connection. | |

| | | | 3. Preference is given to projects where the apparent need is great and the potential scale of the impact is substantial, and 4. Projects which spark interest and passion are favoured. | Small and Large Grants | The Backstage Trust | No website. See Charity Commission website: https://register-of- charities.charitycommiss ion.gov.uk/charity- search/-/charity- details/5025784/what- who-how-where | Small and large grants are available for UK registered charities and Community Interest Companies for activities that enable live art, particularly performance art and live music, to flourish. The Backstage Trust was established in 2012 to focus on encouraging live art - mainly the performing arts and music - to flourish, particularly in an environment where government support and understanding of the difficulties facing the sector is limited. The Trust's main areas of support are: Consultant advice to help with professional development of small-scale arts organisations. Assisting live arts projects involving disadvantaged children and young people. Feasibility studies for capital projects, and Consultant advice on fundraising/case for support, recruiting and the development of staff. | Ongoing – the Trust meets twice a year to review applications. |

Although the Trust's major investment in capital projects is restricted, it is able to help an organisation make progress with a project by funding aspects of the work which are critical but lack conventional donor-appeal, for example:

- Accessible toilets.
- · Leaking roofs.
- · Guidance on fund-raising, and
- Replacing worn-out but vital mandatory equipment.

The Trust has continued to promote schemes to assist the huge community of freelancers who are self-employed and mostly fall outside any government help scheme.

The majority of grants awarded since the Trust was established fall under one of the following headings:

- Assisting live arts projects (not all in the UK) which encourage community participation, and equality, particularly in under-represented areas.
- · Encouraging new writing.
- Encouraging the involvement of young people in the performing arts.
- Giving advice on feasibility studies for capital projects, and guidance on project management.
- Funding elements (particularly the less appealing items) of capital projects.

| | | | Providing advice on fundraising and helping to create a fundraising strategy. Providing help with professional development of small and medium-scale arts organisations, helping encourage diversity and remove barriers, and Providing support to the arts' freelance community. Applicants need to demonstrate the viability of their project clearly, and show that their organisation can evidence good management, and supportive governance to deliver the project. The Trust will want to see proof of a convincing and realistic fundraising strategy. Although Backstage might award funding, a matched funding contribution is often required. A critical need for most small arts organisations — in addition to enthusiasm, energy and a determination to make a difference — is professional advice. Backstage can sometimes fund the cost of appropriate consultant advice, allowing an organisation to benefit from help which would otherwise be beyond their means. All applications that meet the funding criteria are considered carefully. | | small scale arts and community projects, particularly in rural areas.

This Tetbury based Foundation is especially keen to fund good small-scale arts and community projects and welcomes proposals from community museums, organisations, farms and gardens for funding for arts subjects.

The Foundation favours revenue proposals over capital requests and focuses its funding on supporting the following 5 main themes:

- Wales 50% of the Foundation's funding goes to projects in Wales and it continues to maintain strong links with communities in mid-Wales.
- Rural the Foundation is especially interested in projects that open up opportunity in areas where it might not otherwise exist and that help alleviate the isolation and other hardships that can affect rural communities.
- Arts the Foundation wants to help bring art to those people that it can help, and help those who will go on to bring art to the people. It supports organisations that provide a wide range of educational and creative activities, including applied arts and crafts, music, drama, and textiles. It also funds arts education with a focus on helping promising young Welsh talent.
- Community the Foundation is attracted to projects that bring people together, to help each other out and make their community a | | | | better, more joyful place. Support is available for a range of community and social welfare projects, including those focused on helping people who suffer from isolation, mental health problems and financial and/or social disadvantage, and • Small charities - the Foundation has an affinity with smaller charities set up by people who are driven by love and kindness to help better the lives of those around them. Although the Foundation has no set limits to the amount that can be awarded, it favours requests that are below £10,000. While it generally awards one-off revenue grants, it will consider funding for up to 3 years if a project requires longer-term investment, subject to satisfactory monitoring and review. Capital grants are rarely awarded. Further information, guidance and an online application form is available on the Foundation's website. | | charitable organisations in the areas of asylum seekers, refugees and penal affairs in the UK.

To be eligible to apply, your total annual income as shown in your most recent accounts should be no more than £250,000.

As part of its UK Programme, The Hilden Charitable offers grants in the following 2 areas:

Asylum Seekers and Refugees

The charity states that "Asylum Seekers and Refugees continue to face hostility, challenge and isolation which prevents them being able to fully integrate into society; and some face considerable levels of poverty due to being unable to work or use their skills. We want to support organisations and projects which provide essential services; which help meet their needs; and which support their integration within the wider community".

Penal Affairs

Under this category the charity's website comments that "Whilst custodial sentences are often very damaging for all of those affected, research by the Prison Reform Trust shows that women are often more greatly impacted, especially where they have children or other caring responsibilities. During the Pandemic, for example, family visits to prisons were curtailed and many children did not see their parent for over a year. We want to support work "through the door" where organisations go into prisons with projects and support to help prisoners (especially women) cope and/or maintain family bonds and to be better able to resettle positively when released. Equally we welcome applications for post-release projects which support positive resettlement and a reduction in the likelihood of reoffending."

Applicants must meet the following criteria in order to apply for grant support:

- Be able to demonstrate that they have UK charitable purposes.
- Have adequate insurance and safeguarding policies and procedures for your service users, volunteers and employees, including DRB screening if necessary.
- Have an income (from all sources) of less than £250,000 in each of the last 3 financial years.
- Have a project that meets the Foundation's priority areas, and
- Hold less than 12 months spending in cash reserves.

Grants, which can cover project and core costs, can be for up to £7,000 per year for a period of 1 or 2 years. Although there is no specific requirement for matched funding, applicants are encouraged to show what other funding has been sought and secured.

and community organisations for unfashionable or unpopular projects that may otherwise struggle to secure funding from other grant-providers. Projects that empower local people and communities are favoured.

The Trust is keen to provide pump priming, seed funding grants that empowers local people and communities to help get a project up and running. The Trust prefers to support projects that are being run by ordinary people, not professionals. Grants tend to be for between £125 and £2,500, with the occasional higher amount, to small UK registered charities. Constituted voluntary and community groups may also apply, but must do so through a local registered charity.

The Trust likes to see a matched funding contribution from applicants, or at least evidence that applicants have attempted to raise funding from other sources, as it will prioritise applications where projects have attempted to raise funds themselves, even if the amounts are small.

The Trust will ask the following questions when deciding whether to fund an application:

- Is it something new for this particular area? It doesn't matter if the idea is tried and tested in other parts of the country, if it is new for a particular community, it may be of interest to the Trust.
- Is it small? Grants are normally given to projects where an initial £125 to £2,500 can make a real difference. Generally, the Trust will look at what it is costing per head to reach the people the project is helping. Will it find it hard to get support elsewhere? The Trust tries to help those projects that are too new and experimental to get support through established fundraising channels, or which (if established) are under threat due to changes in national or local policy. Is it run by ordinary people, not professionals? Once a project is big enough to employ staff, it is probably too big for the Trust to fund. The Trust also likes to support projects that empower ordinary non-professional people. 5. Does it have the potential to become selfsupporting? The Trust likes to see information that shows how the project will support itself in future years or (if it is a short-life project) over the course of its life, and 6. Is it outward looking, rather than being focused on its own members? The Trust is especially interested in supporting groups who are usually considered recipients of voluntary action (for example old age pensioners, refugees or young offenders) when these people become involved in helping other groups in the community as this empowers the volunteers themselves, as well as supporting the project they are working on. A grant of up to £5,000 is available with no matched funding requirement to organisations in the Scout and Guide movement across the UK.

of older people and other adults with a physical or learning disability or mental health challenge.

The Barchester Healthcare Foundation's mission is to make a difference to the lives of older people (aged 65 and over) and other adults with physical or learning disabilities or mental health challenges, by giving grants to help:

- Reduce isolation and loneliness.
- Promote group activities, and generally to
- Improve people's independence, mobility and quality of life.

Applications are invited where older people and disabled adults have direct needs and can propose practical solutions. Through its grants, the Foundation can provide direct assistance to named individuals and small groups rather than make contributions to running costs of organisations

The Foundation meets every three months to review applications. Decisions on grant applications of up to £1,500 are delegated to the Grants Team. Applications for grants between £1,500 and £5,000 are considered - and may be approved - by two nominated trustees (one of whom is an independent trustee). If not agreed, these applications are considered by the Board of Trustees at their quarterly meetings.

The Foundation's key areas of support are: Arts - support for a wide range of organisations from small community theatre groups to national arts galleries that engage with a variety of audiences and can demonstrate their impact and quality. Community - a large volume of grants are made every year to community projects, many of which rely on the time and goodwill of volunteers. The majority of projects tend to be relatively small compared to other categories due to their local grassroots nature, and the grants made tend to be smaller in comparison. Typical projects supported include revenue grants for volunteering schemes and capital grants for the restoration of village halls and community centres and for facilities to support community life. Education - grants to support education, from small local projects such as reading schemes and after school clubs, to major institutions such as universities. | Ongoing |

- Welfare grants for charities that work with a variety of causes and groups including the elderly, homeless, disabled and special needs, and those in the criminal justice system. Grants made reflect a charity's size and the nature of the work or project being undertaken, and
- Youth grants for charities that consistently demonstrate the commitment of volunteers and professionals across the country to support and inspire young people to achieve their potential. This includes small local organisations, such as uniformed groups and youth clubs, to larger national youth development charities.

The following grants are available for revenue, project and capital projects, usually over a 12-month period (although this can be for up to 3 years for previous grant recipients):

| See text | The Allen Lane Foundation | http://allenlane.org.uk/ | One-off grants, usually for between £500 and £15,000, are available to smaller UK charitable organisations for projects that benefit unpopular causes and reduce social isolation, stigma, discrimination and marginalisation. The Foundation has identified specific groups of people it believes are vulnerable, isolated and unpopular within the communities through which support can meet those objectives. The Foundation is interested in funding work which benefits people in the following groups, or generalist work which includes significant numbers from more than one such group: Asylum-seekers and refugees. Gypsies and travellers. Offenders and ex-offenders. Older people. Migrant communities. People experiencing mental health problems, and People experiencing violence or abuse. | Applications may be made at any time and are reviewed every 4 months, usually in February, June and October each year. |

As the Foundation's resources are modest, it generally funds smaller organisations where small grants can have most impact.

Grants are awarded to smaller registered charities and organisations with automatic charitable status. Grants are also made to constituted groups with charitable purposes and newer forms of organisations such as Community Interest Companies (CIC). Organisations supported by the organisation commonly have an annual turnover of under £250,000.

The Foundation currently makes grants in the UK, but please note that it does not make grants for work in London as it feels there are other significant grant-makers covering the capital.

Grants can be used for core running costs, as well as start-up and project costs. This can include such things as organisational capacity building and strengthening, venue hire and volunteer expenses.

While recognising (and being willing to support) on-going, tried and tested projects, the Foundation is particularly interested in unusual, imaginative or pioneering projects which have not yet caught the public imagination.

Grants are normally one-off awards between £500 and £15,000, with the occasional higher award. The majority of grants made are for 1

| | | | year, although they can also be allocated over 2 or 3 years. The average grant is around £5,500. Further information, guidance, Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs), an Eligibility Checklist and an online application form is available on the Foundation's website. | |

benefit the lives of others - particularly those who are most marginalised and disadvantaged. The Trust will ask all applicants to provide a detailed budget for their funding project as part of their application, with a breakdown of exactly how any grant is to be spent. Volunteering: the Trust supports projects that enable and encourage youth volunteering. It particularly like to fund projects that involve lots of volunteers, and/or encourage young people to stay engaged as volunteers in the long term. Need: the Trust supports young people who run projects that have a positive impact on disadvantaged communities and individuals. It looks for projects that identify a specific need and propose to carry out activities that will clearly help to address this need. It is particularly interested in projects that will have a deep and meaningful effect on those it reaches, as well as projects that are as longlasting and as sustainable as possible, and Innovation: ultimately, the Trust is looking for youth volunteering projects that help to improve communities, but if the project is new and exciting then it's more likely to be funded as the Trust especially likes to support volunteer initiatives that are innovative and try to do things a bit differently, such as using social media creatively or applying existing resources in new ways.

The Village Halls Small Grants Fund is the latest tranche of the £3 million grant fund announced by the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs (DEFRA) in May 2022 in celebration of the Queen's Jubilee. As with the Platinum Jubilee Village Hall Fund, the Small Grants Fund is being managed by ACRE (Action with Communities in Rural England).

Capital grants of between £2,000 and £5,000 are available to support capital projects in village halls such as boiler replacements, insulation, toilet upgrades and new kitchens. Smaller projects are likely to be prioritised. Projects must be completed by Monday 31 March 2025.

Applying venues must be in England and located in a rural settlement with a population of less than 10,000 residents. The venue must be in local community ownership and have a freehold or leasehold in place with a minimum of 21 years left to run.

Please note that there is a significant matched funding requirement for the Fund. A grant can only cover up to 20% of the total project cost. An 80% matched funding requirement is therefore required.

The Fund is expected to extremely popular as grants to improve the 10,000+ rural village halls in England are always needed. It is expected to be over-subscribed and may therefore close earlier than its stated December 2024 deadline.

| | | | Improvements to rural village halls in England should enable the hall to provide one or more of the following outcomes: Improved health and/or wellbeing and/or reduction in rural loneliness. Positive impact on the local environment, contributes towards net zero. Promotion of community cohesion, and/or Support for the local rural economy. Public sector organisations in England are invited to bid for a share of £230 million of government funding to support significant low-carbon energy upgrades to their buildings, ranging from heat pumps and solar panels to new energy efficiency measures such as insulation and low-energy lighting. The opening of the latest bidding process coincides with the 3-year anniversary of the scheme, which has so far allocated more than £2 billion to almost 1,000 public sector organisations across England, helping them reduce energy bills and carbon emissions in the long term. Phase 3 of the Public Sector Decarbonisation Scheme will enable schools, hospitals, leisure centres and other public buildings to install low-carbon heating and energy efficiency measures. | No application deadline for this programme. The Marc Fitch Fund

Small grants, usually for under £5,000, are available to UK registered charities and individuals for projects, publications and research that focuses on local and regional history across the United Kingdom.

https://www.marcfitchfund.org.uk/

Please note that the Charity is a 'funder of last resort', stepping in to assist worthwhile projects that are at risk of failing without a grant, and where other sources of funds have been exhausted. For that reason, the Charity will ask applicants to explain why a grant is necessary and to demonstrate that they have made an effort to secure funding from other sources. The Fund also places great emphasis on the reports of referees and will expect to be convinced that the work being funded will make a new and significant contribution to knowledge.

The following funding streams are available:

- Pre-publication grants
- Publication grants
- Special Project Grants
- Journal digitisation

To apply, applicants are required to provide a brief project outline. If the Fund is interested in taking the project proposal further, it will issue an application form together with details about how to make an application.

The Veneziana Fund is a grant-making charity named after a pizza. The income of the charity is derived from discretionary donations added to the price of the Pizza Veneziana sold in restaurants operated by Pizza Express Ltd. The Pizza Veneziana was the idea of Peter Boizot MBE, the founder of Pizza Express, as a response to the disastrous flooding in Venice on the night of 4th-5th November 1966. For many years the policy of the charity as been to give 50% of income, after deduction of expenses, to the Venice In Peril Fund, a British charity that was set up to help in the restoration of Venice after the flood, and 50% to the restoration, repair and maintenance of: Buildings originally constructed prior to 1750. Buildings originally constructed prior to 1750. The fixtures and fittings of such buildings; and/or Works of art made before 1750 (including the purchase of such items). | The Hair and Beauty Charity | Support is available to UK residents in the hairdressing, barber and beauty industry, their spouses and/or children who have fallen on hard times. | https://hairandbeautycharit y.org/ |
| | The Hair and Beauty Charity is one of a number of grant-making Trusts that support individuals and families in a specific profession that have fallen on hard times. The Charity provides financial assistance to those in the hair and beauty industry who, for | | whatever reason, are faced with challenging and difficult personal circumstances, from mental or physical illness to victims of domestic violence.

The Charity was founded for the following charitable purposes:

- Rendering assistance in cases of need by way of annuities and/or grants to past and present members of the hairdressing, barber and beauty industry, their spouses and/or children, and
- Granting relief in cases by way of grants to non-members connected with the hairdressing, barber and beauty industries of any nationality and resident in the UK.

Help is typically provided to those who:

- Become ill or disabled.
- Have a terminal illness.
- · Have mental health problems.
- Have become homeless.
- Become carers for elderly relatives, children, spouses/partners or other dependents.
- Have suffered a bereavement which has adversely affected their financial circumstances, and/or
- Are without sufficient income to meet basic needs.

There is no minimum or maximum grant award level, although priority is given to individuals who have savings of less than £500 and whose income is less or not significantly higher than their expenditure. The Charity takes this approach so that it can help as many hairdressers, barbers and beauticians and their young children as possible. Funding is only available for those in the hairdressing, barber and beauty industry in the UK.

The Charity aims to continue its grant-making and, where possible, expand its grant programme over the next twelve months.

Applicants are normally asked the following questions: How long have you been involved in the hair and beauty industry? When did you last work in the industry? What help are you looking for? • Why do you need the help? The Charity reviews all applications and decides who to help and what kind of help would be most appropriate. Its guiding principle is that it helps professional hairdressers, barbers and beauticians in need and all applications will be considered against this principle.
