Unleashing the power of Local Councils to tackle the Climate Emergency 26 June 2024 (Online)	A National Association of Local Councils (NALC) event Empower your local council to force change in the fight against climate change and biodiversity loss. Despite their potential, many smaller councils feel shackled by a lack of funding and disempowered in making a tangible impact. It's time to change that narrative. Take advantage of this dynamic event that goes beyond rhetoric. Witness first-hand examples of impactful initiatives from around the country through the eyes of a national stakeholder championing climate action, a representative from a government department steering this crucial agenda, and a case study featuring a council that has successfully risen to the challenge. This is not just another event – it's a call to action! Walk away with practical, actionable insights your council can implement to make a real change. The fight against climate change starts at the grassroots level, and your council can be a driving force. Seize this opportunity to transform your council into a catalyst for positive environmental change. Together, let's make a lasting impact on our planet's future. Date: 26 June 2024 Time: 12pm – 1.15pm Location: Online

JULY 2024
Decoding the Future of Artificial Intelligence in Local Government 24 July 2024 (Online)	A National Association of Local Councils (NALC) event Dive into the world of artificial intelligence (AI) and explore the realm of predictive analytics in local council settings. While our initial thoughts about AI might drift towards Hal from 2001: A Space Odyssey, the current focus is on predictive analytics and harnessing historical data to forecast new instances or cases. In the realm of local government, predictive analytics is emerging as a game-changer, although its widespread adoption is still in its infancy. This session will take you beyond the surface, examining sophisticated examples of predictive analytics in various local public services. While some organisations have embraced this cutting-edge technology, most of the sector is just beginning to explore the opportunities and risks it presents. Hear directly from experts who have conducted a groundbreaking report for the Local Government Association on AI in local government, a principal authority utilising assistive technology, and a communications stakeholder in the sector. Gain valuable insights into how predictive analytics could shape the future of local councils and grapple with the broader moral dilemma presented by AI. Date: 24 July 2024 Time: 12pm – 1.15pm Location: Online Cost: From £30 https://www.nalc.gov.uk/our-events/eventdetail/392/-/decoding-the-future-of-artificial-intelligence-in-local-governance
SEPTEMBER 2024
The Future of Neighbourhood Plans 25 September 2024 (Online)	A National Association of Local Councils (NALC) event This event aims to re-evaluate the continued significance of neighbourhood planning and make a case for its sustenance in the upcoming parliament, regardless of the government's composition. The focus is bridging the interest gap between developers, local councils, and local planning authorities. Rediscover the passion for launching and shaping a neighbourhood plan in your area and access indispensable tips, guidance, and advice necessary to embark on this pivotal undertaking. Date: 25 September 2024 Time: 12pm – 1.15pm Location: Online Cost: From £30

Energy Advice, First Wednesday of the month, Bath	Residents wanting to reduce their bills or insulate their homes will be able to get guidance from trained energy experts at a monthly pop-up event in Bath. Staff from the Centre for Sustainable Energy (CSE) will be manning a stall outside Bath Central Library on the first Wednesday of every month The Centre for Sustainable Energy, based in Bristol, is a national charity supporting people and organisations across the UK to tackle the climate emergency and end the suffering caused by cold homes. Their Home Energy Team provides residents in B&NES with free, local and impartial energy advice. The CSE staff can answer questions and provide information about saving energy in the home, keeping warm in winter and lowering fuel bills. They can also explain how to adjust your thermostat, the best way to use electric storage heaters or how to draught proof or insulate your home. Residents can also get help managing their gas and electricity bills and find out about any financial assistance which may be available. Residents on low incomes can find out if they are eligible for energy related home improvement grant schemes such as Bright Green Homes, which could fund the installation of insulation, glazing, heat pumps or solar panels. The CES stall will be in place on the first Wednesday of every month, at the top of the stairs in the Podium, from 11am to 2pm. Further information on can be found on the CSE website, which contains plenty of information about saving energy around the home. https://www.cse.org.uk/advice Residents unable to visit the pop-up stall can call the CSE freephone home energy advice line for help on 0800 082 2234, or email info@cse.org.uk. The council's Energy at Home website has information on energy related home improvement grant schemes for B&NES residents on low incomes. https://www.energyathome.org.uk/
